CHS CREATES NEW HORIZONS

"Wow! The spirit around here has really soared! Everybody is involved in supporting the school."

"Yea, the pep rallies have been fantastic. It gets so loud in the gym that you can hardly hear yourself yell."

"The support at all of the games is great too. The players really appreciate it. It sure does help them play a lot better."

"I'm proud to be part of a school that has the spirit that this one does."

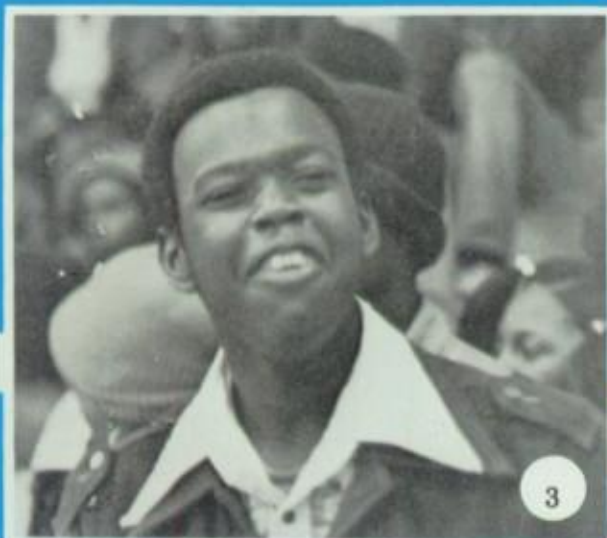

"You know, this year CHS has opened up a new sense of pride for the students."

"Yea, it's like a new horizon appearing for everybody, new spirit bringing about a new sense of pride."

1. CHS students give the Cys their support at a pep rally. 2. Excitement leads to weird things, as fans show their spirit. 3. "Ooh Man, I just love these pep rallies." 4. The cheerleaders go wild as they yell for the Cys at one of the pep rallies. 5. A kickoff causes many different reactions. 6. Boogieing at the pep rally, these students dance to "The Horse".

NEW FACES ADD LIGHT TO CHS

"Have you seen all of the new teachers running around here?"

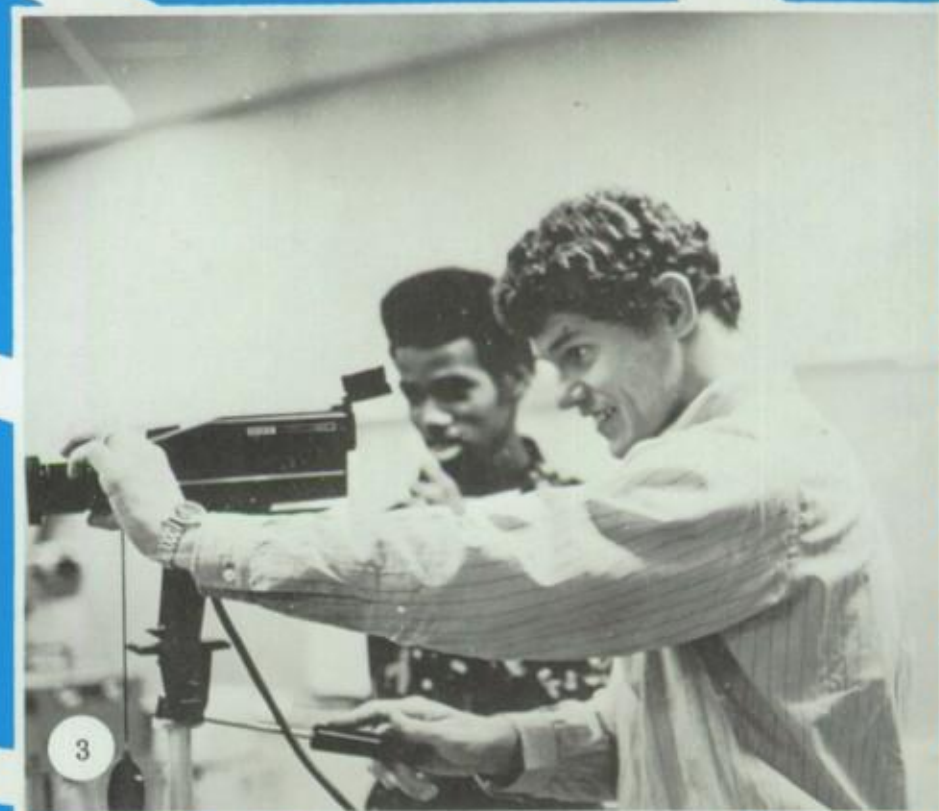

"Gosh yes! There sure is a lot of them, isn't it? I wonder where they all come from!"

"Some of them were imported from Newberry by Coach Kimmell. He brought us some great coaches. I think their names are Duane Dennie, Stuart Lesslie and Owen Privette. He also picked up Sam Clark. He is a big man from the Citadel."

"We got a lot of them from around here, too. Mrs. Brenda Hagler, Mrs. Rosa Knight, Mrs. Agnes Love and Ms. Brenda Bowden all came from around Chester. Mrs. Debbie Byars comes from Rock Hill, and Miss Donna Neely comes from Brattonsville."

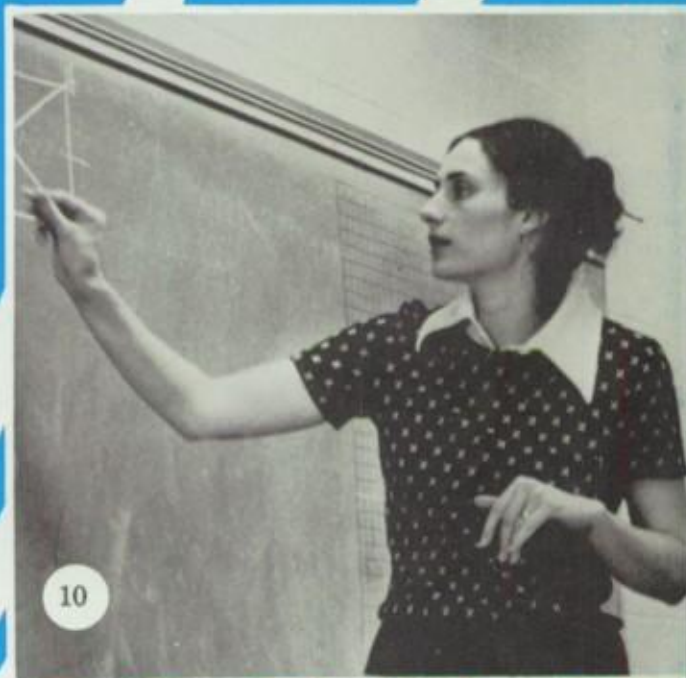

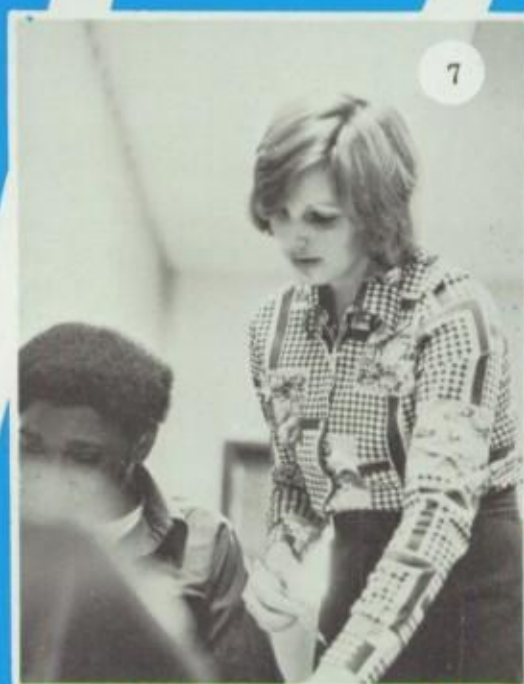

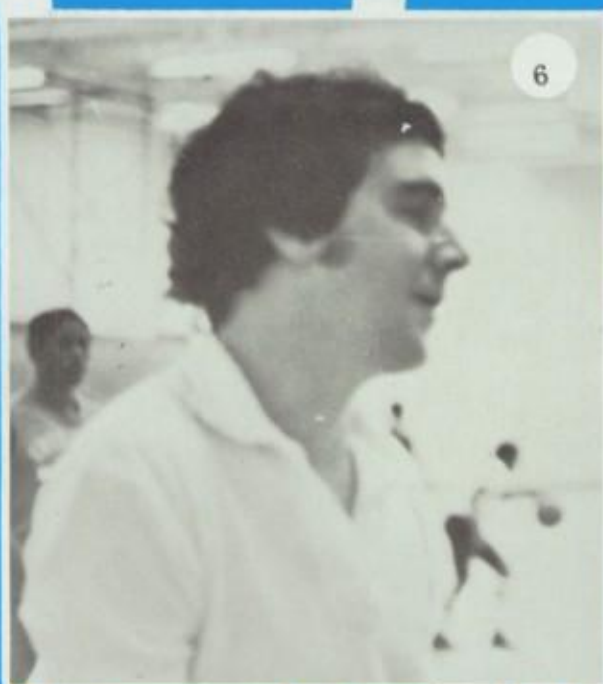

"These teachers are really going to add a lot to our school. I'm glad that we got them."

"Yea, these new faces are still another new horizon in our school life."

1. Working on grammar problems, Miss Donna Neely lends some help to Carl Aslund and Barbara Love. 2. Listening to some wild stories, Owen Privette can't believe what Eddie Fairfax is telling him. 3. Deep in concentration, Sam Clark works on a faulty machine. 4. Coach Stuart Leslie. 5. Explaining a sentence structure, Mrs. Brenda Hagler helps Larry Hall. 6. Listening to another fake excuse, Coach Dennie gives a sly grin. 7. Observing a student's work, Mrs. Debbie Byars offers some suggestions. 8. Collecting papers, Mrs. Rosa Knight asks for homework. 9. Astonished, Miss Brenda Bowden can't believe what she sees. 10. Explaining a proof, Mrs. Love draws a diagram on the board.

NEW COURSES OPEN NEW DOORS

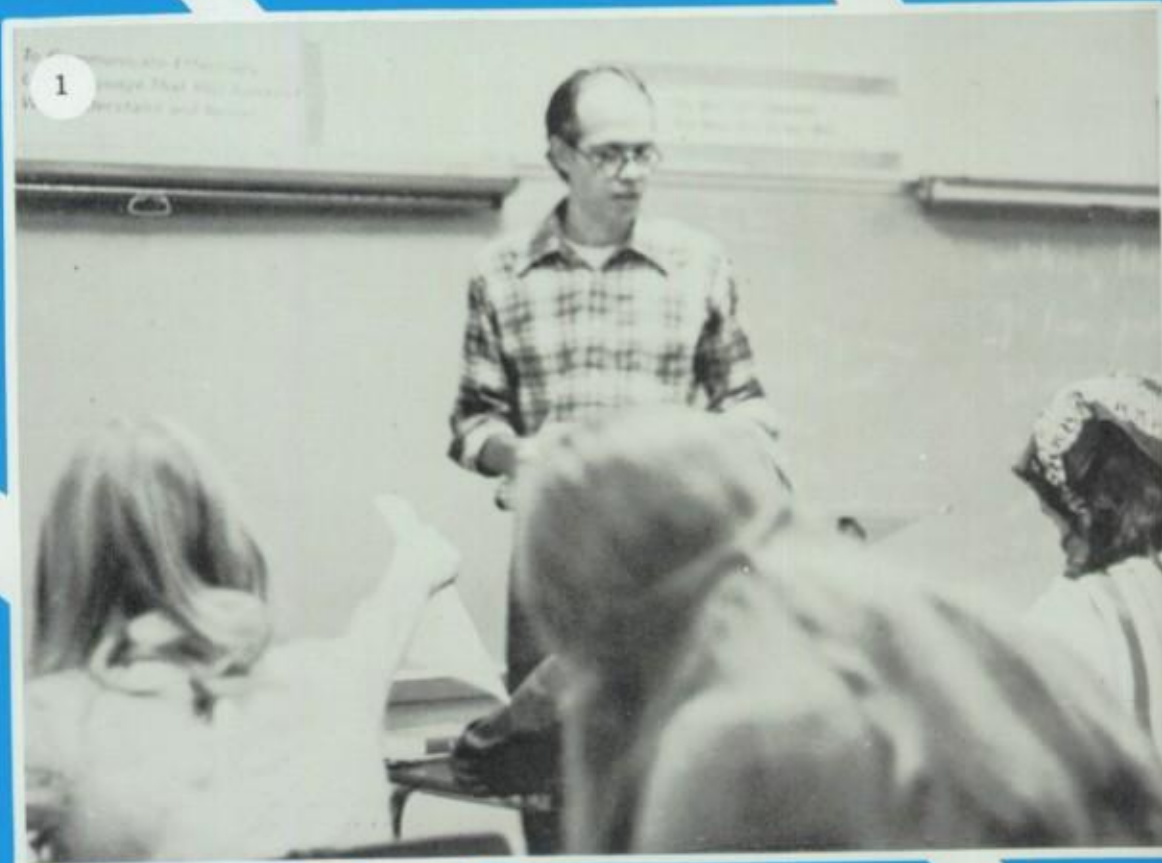

"Man, I really like this new English program. It gives us a chance to take a lot of different subjects."

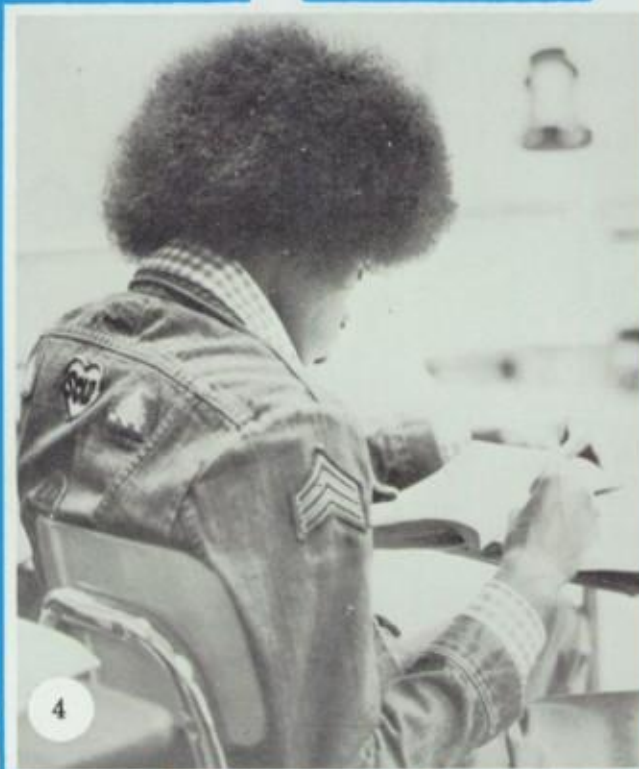

"I like all the mini courses that we can take. There are all sorts of subjects like teenage fiction, creative writing, grammar and other things."

"The history department has added a new subject too. We now have World Geography in addition to the other social studies. Now we can get a more detailed look at our history and culture."

"I believe that these courses are going to help us a lot. They're allowing us to open new horizons in our education."

1. English students enjoyed having Mr. Ron Padgett, a poet in the Total Arts Program, help them with writing poems in many styles. 2. Throwing up her hands in surrender, Jean Roddey decides that she'll like the new English courses. 3. Concentrating on a short story, Scott Thomas, Judd Hunter and Aaron Faile listen to their teacher's interpretation. 4. Working on grammar exercises, David Davis makes use of his workbook. 5. Explaining the process of producing a newspaper, Mrs. Titus gives some helpful hints to her journalism class.

HOMECOMING '75

"Did you make it to the Homecoming game last Friday?"

"Sure! I wouldn't have missed it for anything. It was real exciting, wasn't it?"

"You bet! Last week was really a lot of fun too. With Fifties Day and Hat Day we really boosted our spirit."

"The crowning of the Homecoming Queen was exciting too. Sixteen girls were all hoping to be the lucky one to be chosen by the student body."

Yea, but we sure did choose a great one. I think Julia Britton is very pretty. She was sponsored by our quarterback, Kim Kimmell."

"Kim Hope, the first runner-up sponsored by Durward Frazer, is pretty too. Of course, so were all of the other girls."

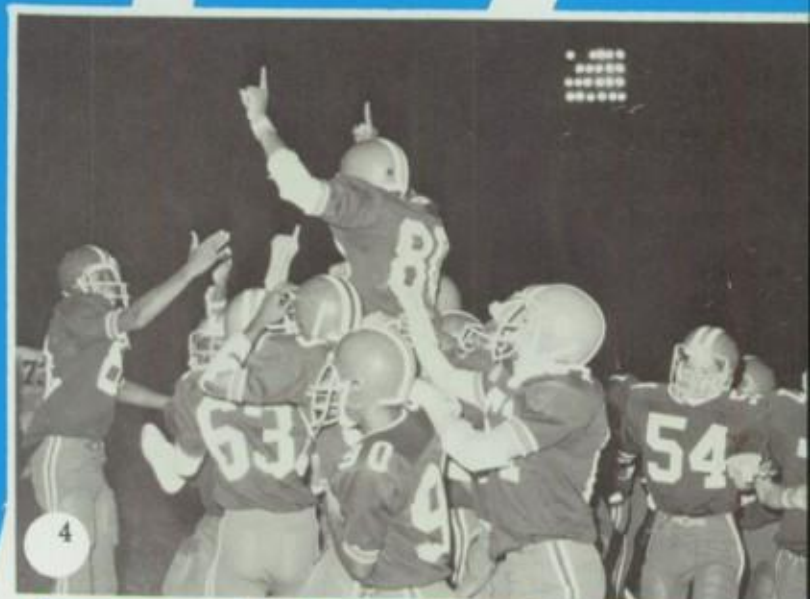

"I'm glad that we won the game, too. That really made a big difference to everybody. It took a sudden death playoff to win, but the Cycs still came out on top."

"Yea, and the Homecoming Dance rounded off the night perfectly. Green Ice played again, and they were fantastic."

"Homecoming was a big success. It seems like our new horizons are getting brighter and brighter."

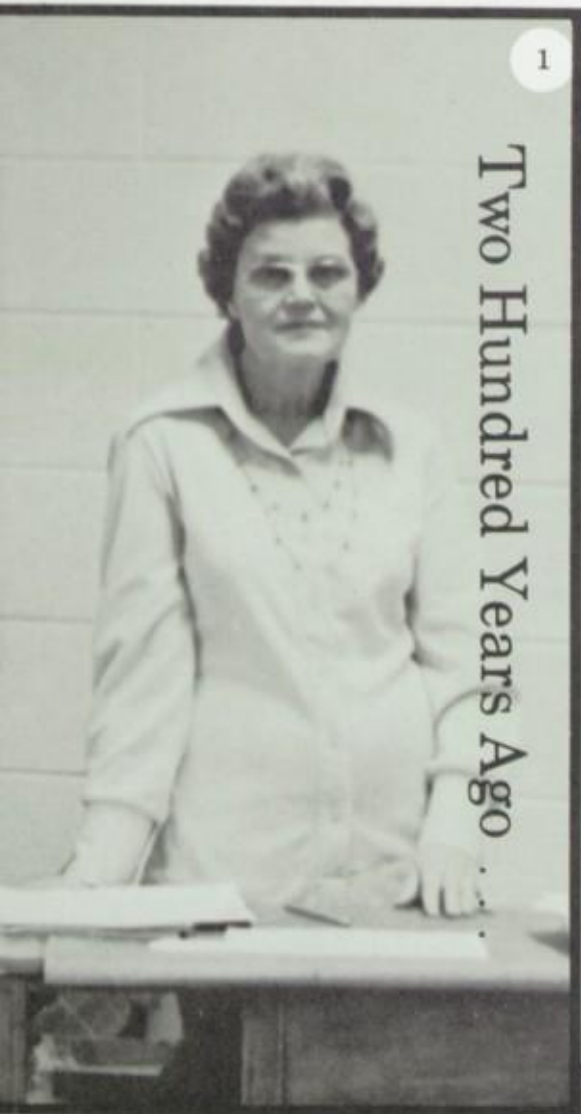

1. Escorted by Bill Wagers, Julia Britton goes forward to receive her crown. 2. Candidates and their escorts: Rosemary Jeter and Woodrow Hayes, Sara Meador and Scott Gibson, Alice Mayfield and Ronald Johnson, Linda Overby and John Holroyd, Cathy Young and Clarence Moore, Brenda Sanders and Deryl Stinson, Teresa McClinton and Roosevelt Robinson, Helen McCree and Chuck Ware, Linda Chisholm and Gilbert Ervin, Wanda Fisher and David Cheatom, Teresa Gore and Willie Sanders, Jennifer Jones and Micheal Fredricks. 3. Chosen as first runner-up, Kim Hope, escorted by Alex Oliphant, steps up to receive her flowers. 4. The Cycs celebrate after a big win. 5. The cheerleaders jump for joy as the Cycs score again.

A high-contrast, black and white graphic design. The background is solid black. A large, bright white semi-circle is positioned in the lower half of the frame. From the top edge of this semi-circle, numerous white lines of varying lengths radiate upwards and outwards, creating a sunburst or starburst effect. The lines are more densely packed in the center and become more sparse towards the sides. At the base of the semi-circle, the word "CLUBS" is written in a bold, white, sans-serif font. The letters are slightly shadowed, giving them a three-dimensional appearance as if they are floating just above the black surface.

CLUBS

Two Hundred Years Ago . . .

"It's sort of embarrassing."

"What is?"

"Well, the History Club is. I mean we have a club but we don't. We had one meeting this year but most of our members didn't know that they were still in the club, and we haven't got any new members in, Juniors that is, because to be in the club they have to take a test that proves that they are the top twenty in the U.S. History classes."

"Well, that sounds simple"

"It's not though, with three U.S. History teachers it's hard to get a test organized."

"Oh, that's bad."

"I know. We need new members to carry on for next year but as it is . . ."

"Well can't you change the rules?"

"It'll be hard because it's written in the constitution of the club."

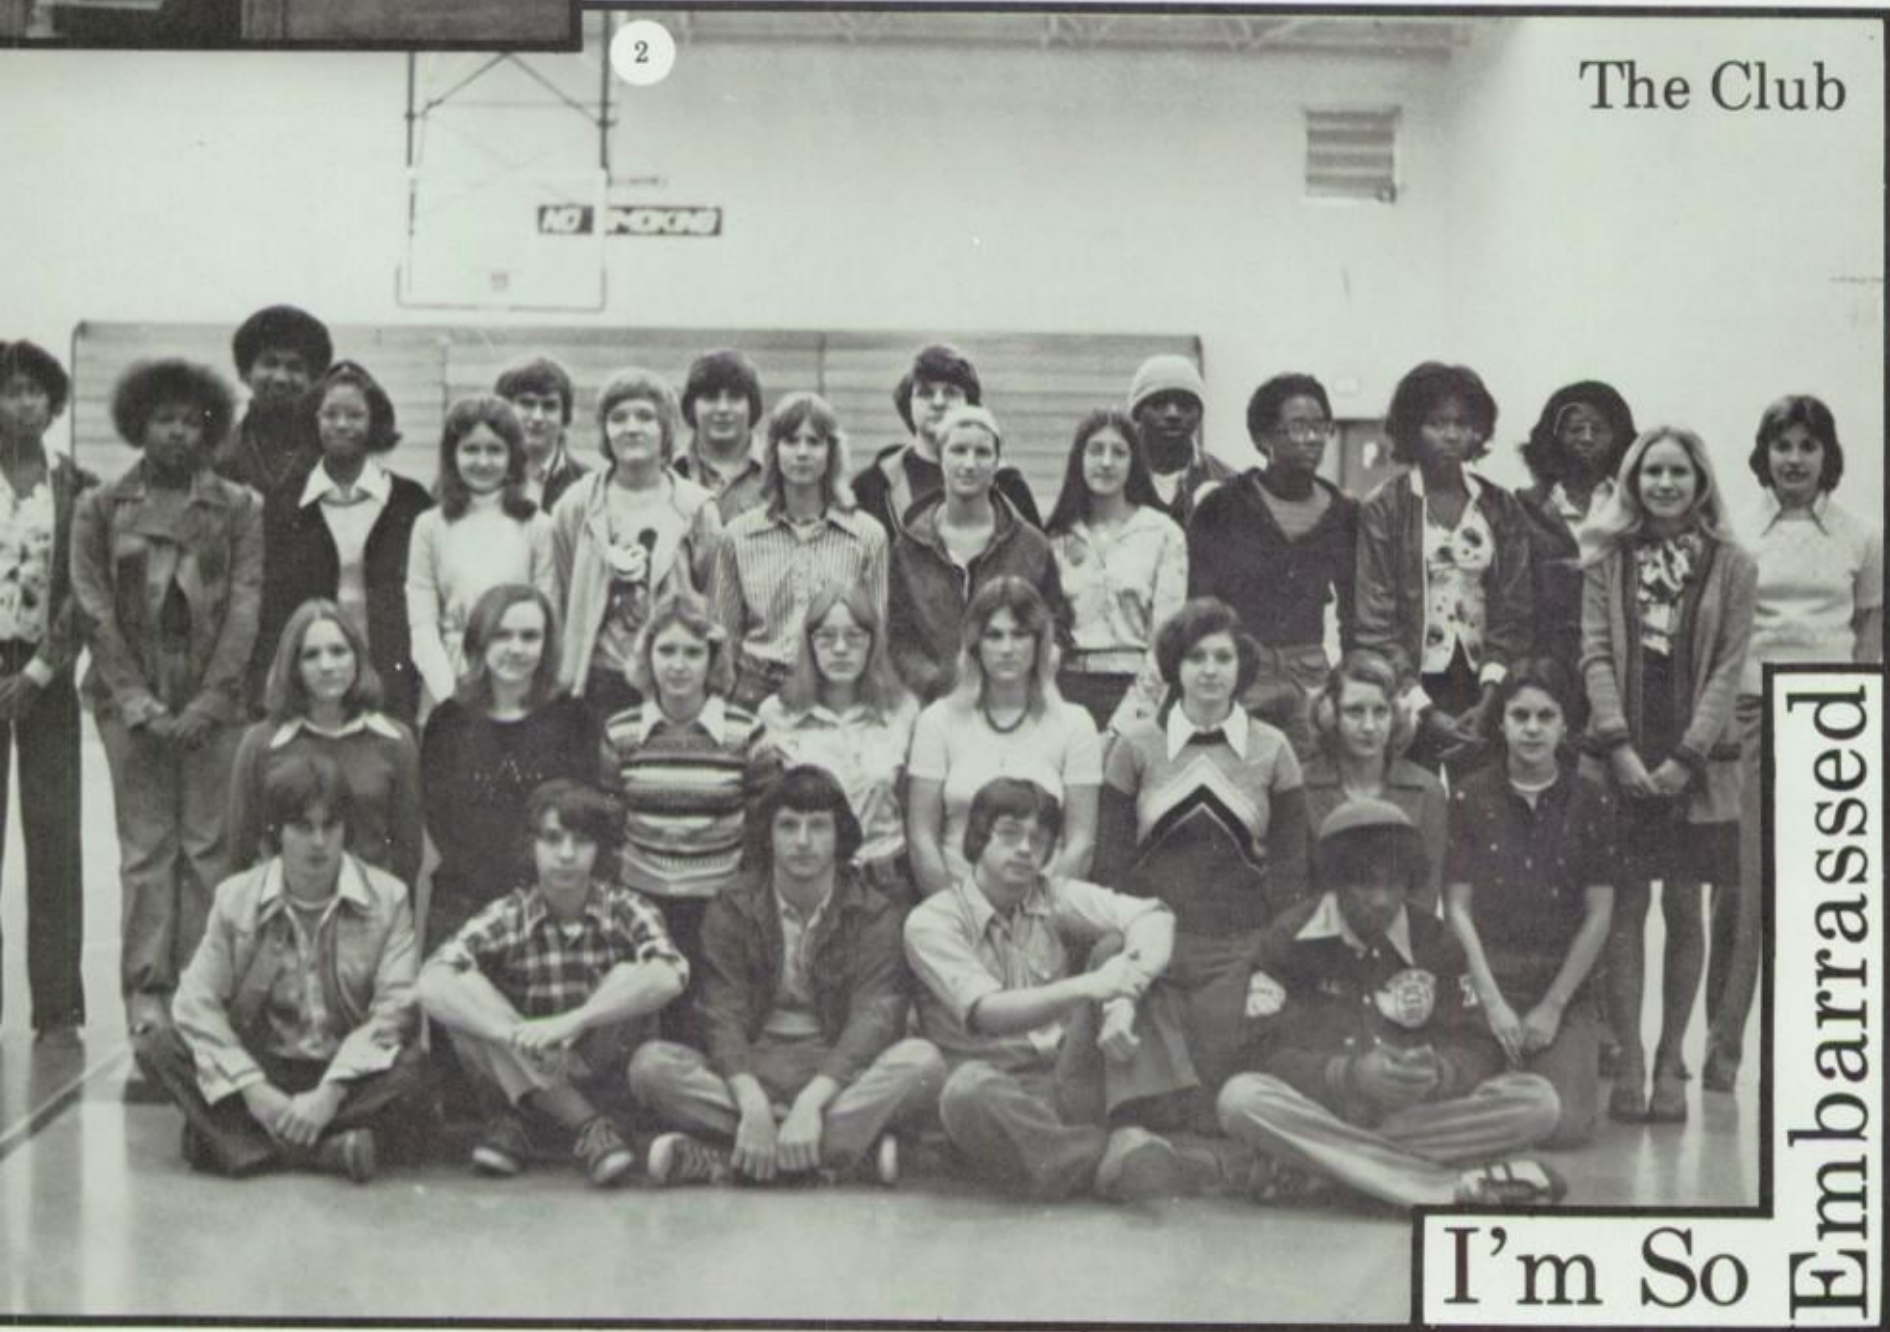

"Oh."

"As it is we haven't planned anything to do. We ought to because it's the Bicentennial year but, well no one seems interested. It's hard to understand; we're a club but then we aren't."

"That's the way it goes."

"I hate it, but that's the way it is."

How to Drive an

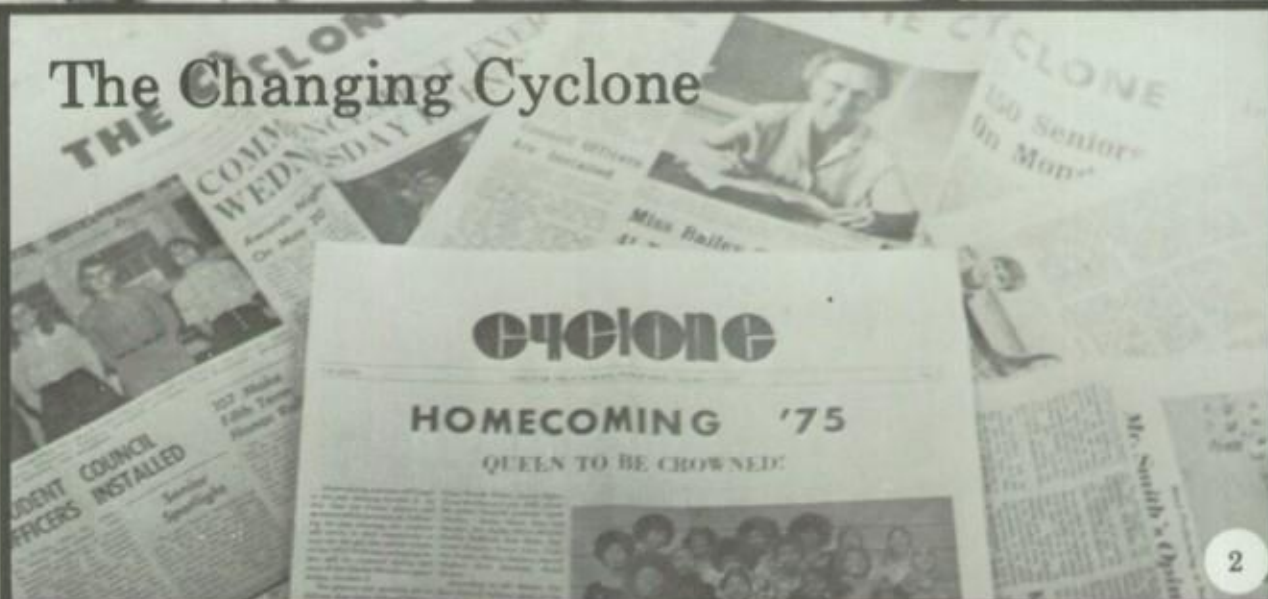

The Cyclone is:
 — Chester High's most widely read newspaper (not to mention its only one),
 — produced by the journalism class,
 — produced in a room that looks like a disaster area after meeting a deadline,
 — a surefire way to drive an editor wild.

These definitions tell a little about the Cyclone, the school newspaper, but there's more . . .

This year's paper is totally different from those of past years. The main headline changed, the publisher changed, and many of these papers actually came out on time, which was a rarity in other years. New things were added to the paper, and old things were taken out; yet all the members like to think that each of these changes was for the best.

When the new staff took over no one knew what they were doing but, believe it or not, it has all come together, and Chester High has been blessed with the best group of papers ever produced.

"No, It's Miss Hicklin!!"

"Miss Hicklin???"

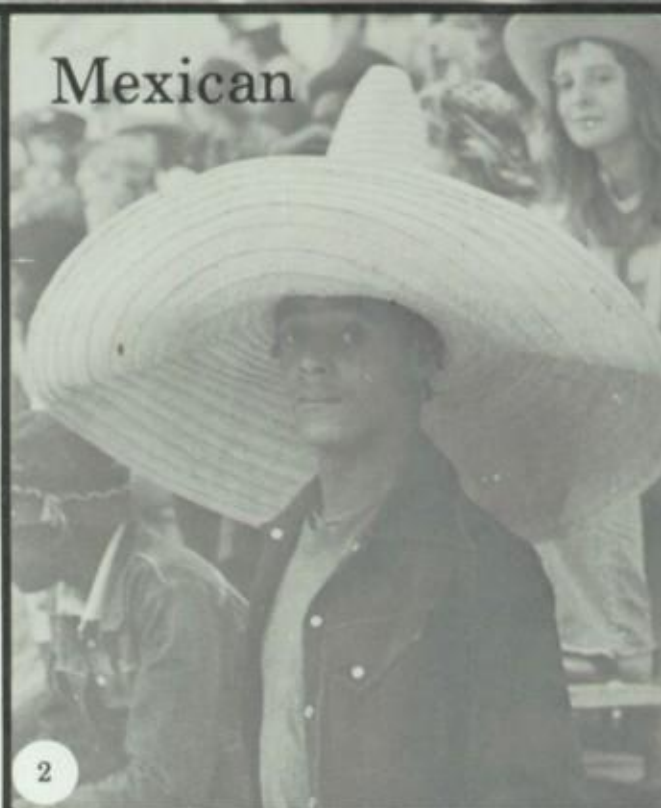

"Yes, Miss Hicklin was only one of the many person's in the school who participated in 50's Day. This along with Hat Day was designed by the Pep Club to raise school spirit during the week of Homecoming. The fact that over 75% of the school participated in these events was a major accomplishment for any organizations.

In addition to these activities members of the Pep Club led a caravan of decorated cars to the Jamboree.

The Club

"Greetings, tonight is your last chance to see the Ghost House . . ."

So began the Count's last commercial. For the past week, he, an executioner, a mad scientist, three witches and other varied monsters were seen by many normal and many not so normal people at the Ghost House, presented by the CHS Beta Club.

In keeping with the holiday spirit the club initiated it's members in Halloween costumes. During that day the school was repeatedly cursed by a hooded, full-fledged witch. The Halloween project raised a total profit of $330. The club raised other funds in bake sales. The money from these projects was used to help the members go to the Beta Club Convention in Columbia. The members of the club also considered changing the club's name to the Alpha Club . . . after all a Beta is a fish.

French Club

I Thank So!

"Hey, there's a club going around school that speaks French!!"

"Wow, that's great. We're really lucky to have a club like that."

"Yeah, I wish I had taken French a few years earlier."

"Me too. How do you get in it."

"Well you have to be in French II or III."

"Who runs this club. I mean which teacher is in charge and who are the officers."

"O.K., let us think; well of course Madame Knight is the advisor, and let's see, oh yeah, Susan Hasty is the president, David Peay is the vice president, Judy Boulware is the treasurer, and Deborah Dobbins is the secretary; that's all."

"That's a good group but what do they do?"

"They meet once a month, and there's always a program about France . . . then at the end of the year they have a PARTY!!"

"Boy, that is really a neat club. Do you think we can learn enough French before the next meeting to be up with the ones in II and III?"

"I don't thank so!!"

"Well, we made it!"

"Huh?"

"The Spanish Club is a club! . . . we almost didn't get organized, but we did. Our first meeting was Dec. 12, and we elected officers."

"Who?"

"Shelia Stewart as president, Steve Brantley as vice president, Terry Helms as secretary, and Carol Anne McCrorey as treasurer . . ."

"Wait a minute. What are you going to do. I mean you pay dues, right."

"Yea . . ."

"Well, what are you going to get out of it?"

"A PARTY at the end of the year . . . a sort of Fiesta."

"That's pretty good . . . do you think I could come . . . after all, I do know a little Spanish."

"What?"

"Uh . . . parlez-vous."

"That's French dummy."

"Heh, do you think I could go to the French Club picnic then?"

Dear Santa Claus,

I know that it's a little late to be writing you but I have to ask you to do something for me. I was wondering if you could write my student council copy for me. Something nice . . . not too boring. Please include in it that the student council had a great year this year. They had a Homecoming Dance that was just fabulous. They also sponsored a Valentine's Dance and at it crowned a Mr. and Miss Chester High. Be sure to put that the officers were; Jessie Boulware — Pres., John Holroyd — B. Pres., Alfred Lindsay — Tres., Mary Beth Carr — Sec., John Brice — Publicity Chair., and Sara Lee Meador — Chaplain. I know that you're busy but it really would help. You know how these deadlines are. Say hello to Mrs. Claus for me . . . and Rudolph too.

Thanks a lot,

"DECA stands for Distributive Education Clubs of America."

"That sounds good, but what does it all mean?"

"It is an organization whose program of leadership and personal development is designed for students enrolled in D.E."

"Now pray tell, what is D.E.?"

"I think it is a program of instruction which teaches marketing, merchandising, and management."

"Who heads such a club?"

"Mr. Snead, you know, over in E-3."

"Oh, yeah, tell me more."

"Let me see, they have local and state chapters. It is a non-profit, non-political youth organization."

"Anything else?"

"Yes, DECA activities provide its members with an opportunity for them to serve as leaders, followers and provided an opportunity for them to receive state and national recognition."

"Wow, this is great. I'm so enthused."

Happiness Is Being on The Cestrian Staff

The Cestrian Staff is unlike any other club in the school. When the yearbook is started, there are many eager people who want to help. Slowly they fall to the wayside, but a true Cestrian staff member always hangs in.

This year's staff had many memories of hard work and long hours. But they also had a good time. Staff members will all remember the suicide notes that popped up from time to time, lost books and the Horace and Smedly Detective Agency. No one will forget Robert Redford's funeral and John Denver's pregnancy. Getting caught in the darkroom or in the casket also returns many memories. Several dignitaries also passed through the hallowed halls of the Cestrian Room. Among them were Roy Rogers, Scarlet O'Hara, Claude the hit man, equipped with his official machine gun, and of course the infamous Twirp. Pillow fights, painting tables and bookcases, putting up posters, selling ads and yearbooks, eating called-in orders, taking last minute pictures, and locking photographers in the darkroom are all fond memories. The Cestrian Staff is a very unique group, but if nothing else, they are a great bunch of people.

"EXTRA! EXTRA!
Worst Bus Accident in History Occurs . . ."

"Wow! What a wreck! Worst I've seen in years."

"Sure is! It's a wonder anybody could've survived that!"

Fortunately, this was not the case in the Chester School System this year. For every school day, 180 days out of the year, a small group unsung heroes dashed out of their warm beds to start their morning runs; amidst yelling, anxious students, congested traffic, and Mr. Brown.

Under the direction of Mr. Brown the '75-'76 bus drivers completed one of their safest years yet. This came as a satisfying result of the frequent safety lectures given at various meetings throughout the year.

Is Life Worth It?

"Sometimes I just don't think life is worth it."

"Wait a minute. Before you go killing yourself, how about telling me what's the matter."

"I don't know. Life seems so worthless now . . . so, you know, exasperating. Maybe you could help me. You always seem to be so happy, even in homeroom! What do you do?"

"Well, every morning at 7:45 I go to Mrs. Bankhead's chemistry room . . ."

"You blow up something every morning?"

"NO! Let me finish. I go to a prayer group. We have discussions about the Bible and follow them with prayer. It really makes my day."

"Maybe I'll come . . . maybe I'll feel better . . . the only thing is I'll miss saying that I have suicidal tendencies."

"You'll get over it."

"Halt friend. Where for art thou bound at such a rapid pace?"

"Huh . . . oh, do you mean where am I going?"

"Yes, friend."

"Well, I'm going to a Shakespeare Club meeting, and I'm sort of late . . . you see we're watching 'Much Ado About Nothing' on TV, and it is so good. You just wouldn't believe it."

"Shall I hear more, or speak at this?"

"WHAT?????"

"Truly friend, I do know the virtues of 'Much Ado About Nothing' for I am the author."

"You're Willie Shakespeare?"

"William!!"

"This is fantastic! I must be the only living person in the world who has actually met William Shakespeare, and just think it's all because of this club I'm in. This is marvelous. I mean not only do I get out of class every Monday 6th block, get to discuss plays, go to see some at Bob Jones University and have a great informal class, I get to meet the person who is responsible. I mean, I know we students asked Mrs. Meador to organize the club, but if it weren't for Shakespeare, well, we wouldn't have a club. Hey . . . are you sure you're Shakespeare?"

"Positively friend. This morrow is Monday isn't it?"

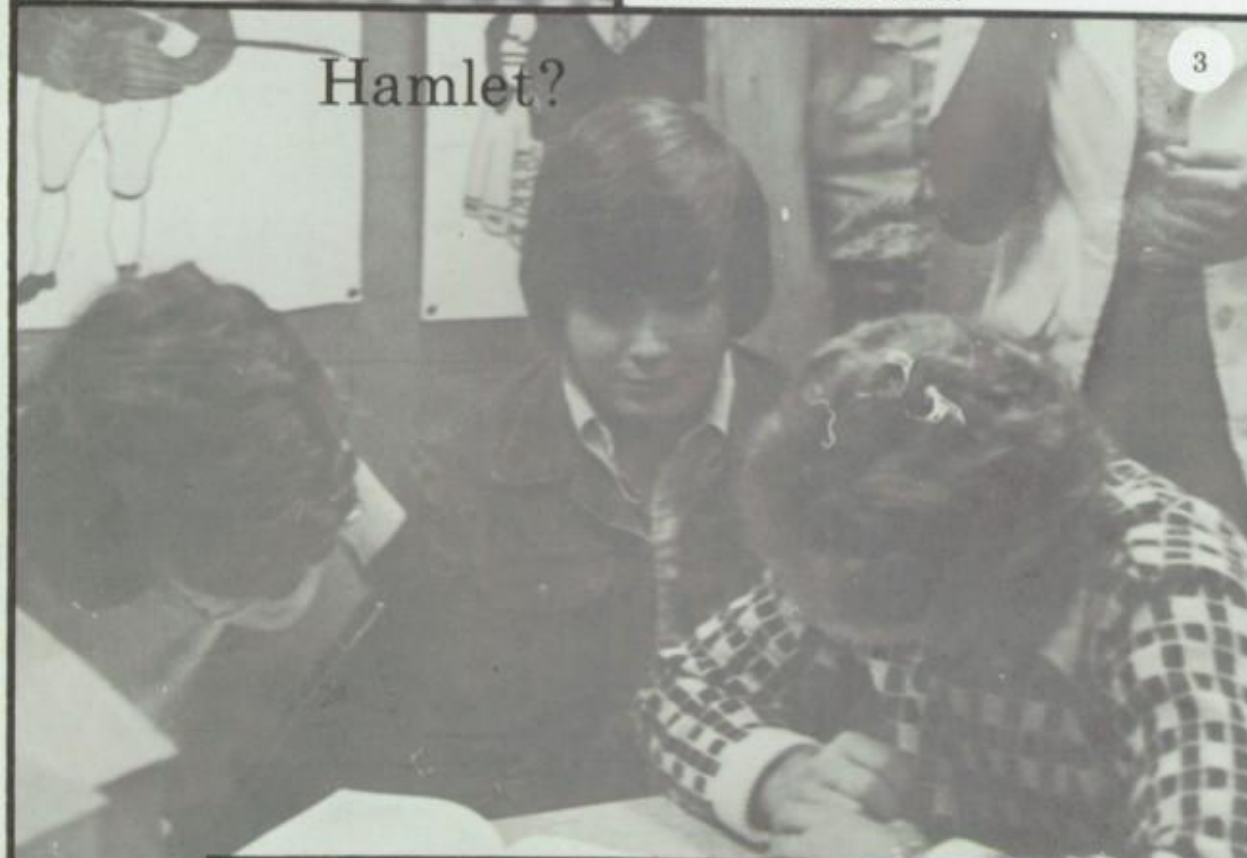

"Yea . . ."

"Well this morrow I'm Shakespeare, next morrow I'm Napoleon, the morrow after I'm Nero . . ."

Cycs Prove That They Are Winners

The first game of the year saw the Cyclones meeting a very good York team. Due to a few mistakes and some bad breaks the Cyclones found themselves trailing 33-0 at the half. But when the second half began a new enthusiasm emerged with the team. The Cycs didn't just hand the second half to the York team, but instead they showed them that they were tough. The strong Cyc defense held the explosive York to only one touchdown. The final score was in favor of York, but the players and fans knew that the Cycs don't give up and hang their head when they are losing. Instead, they come back fighting and do their best to win. Regardless of the score, the Cycs give it their all.

In the next game, Chester took on Saluda. Neither team managed to score in the first half. The defense held the Tigers to a scoreless game and proved their skill in a tough contest.

Chester journeyed to Laurens to play them in the third game of the season. Laurens was favored heavily over Chester, but Coach Kimmell's boys didn't let him down. The Chester offense blasted off from the kick-off and scored quickly. The defense fired up and stopped Laurens. The entire game was dominated by the powerful Cyclones. The final score was 30-6 in favor of Chester. With this win Chester was well on the way to prove that it was a winner.

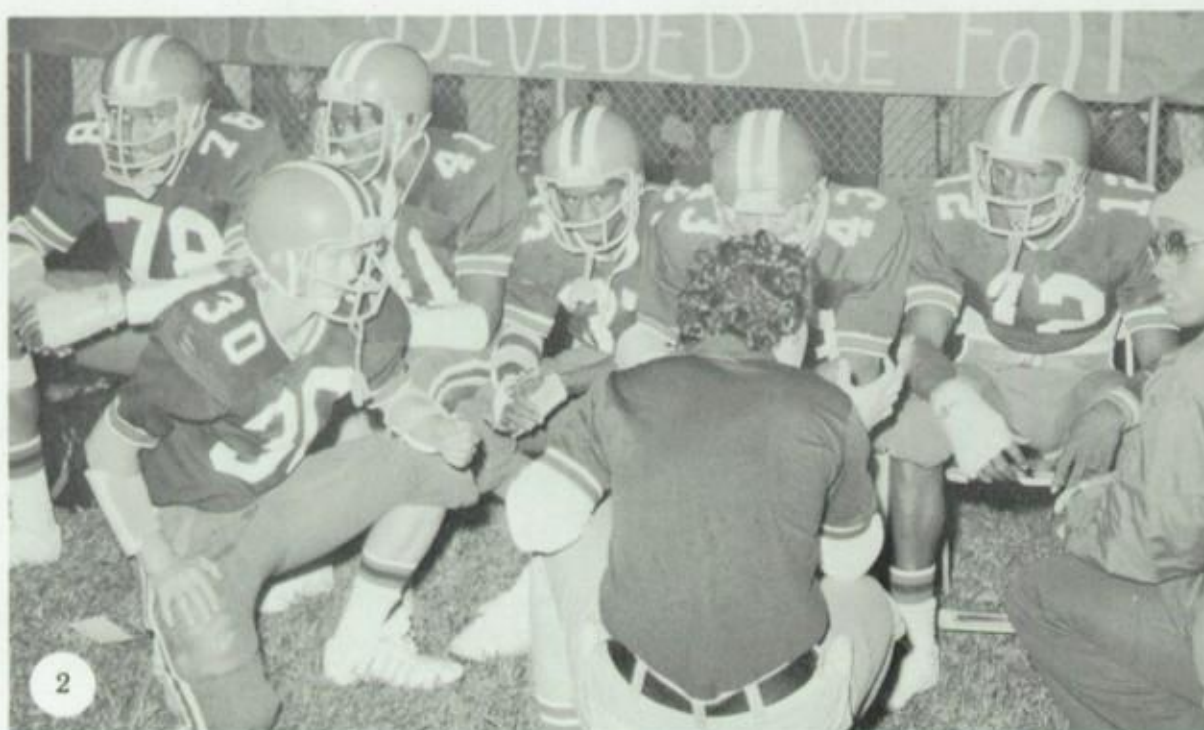

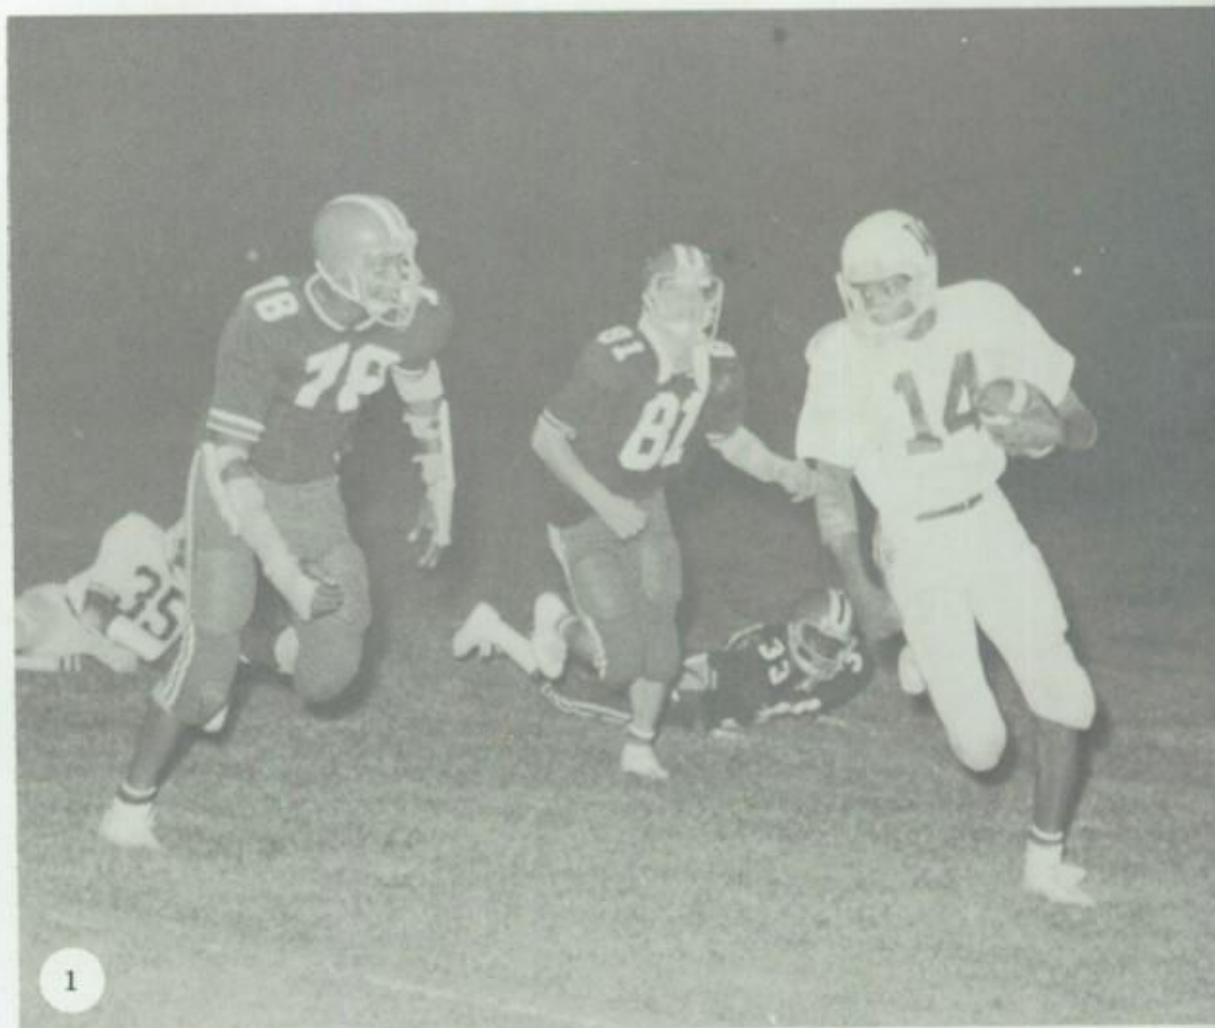

1. Slamming a tackling dummy, held by Paul Small, Ricky Clack gets in shape for the season. 2. Watching the defense work, Cyclone quarterback Kim Kimmell waits to get back in the game. 3. Bounding for the goal, Jerry Davis runs from an opponent. 4. Preventing a touchdown, Marvin Hughes brings down a Winnsboro player at the Homecoming game. 5. "Now get out there and fight," shouts Coach Force.

When the Cyps Came Marching In . . .

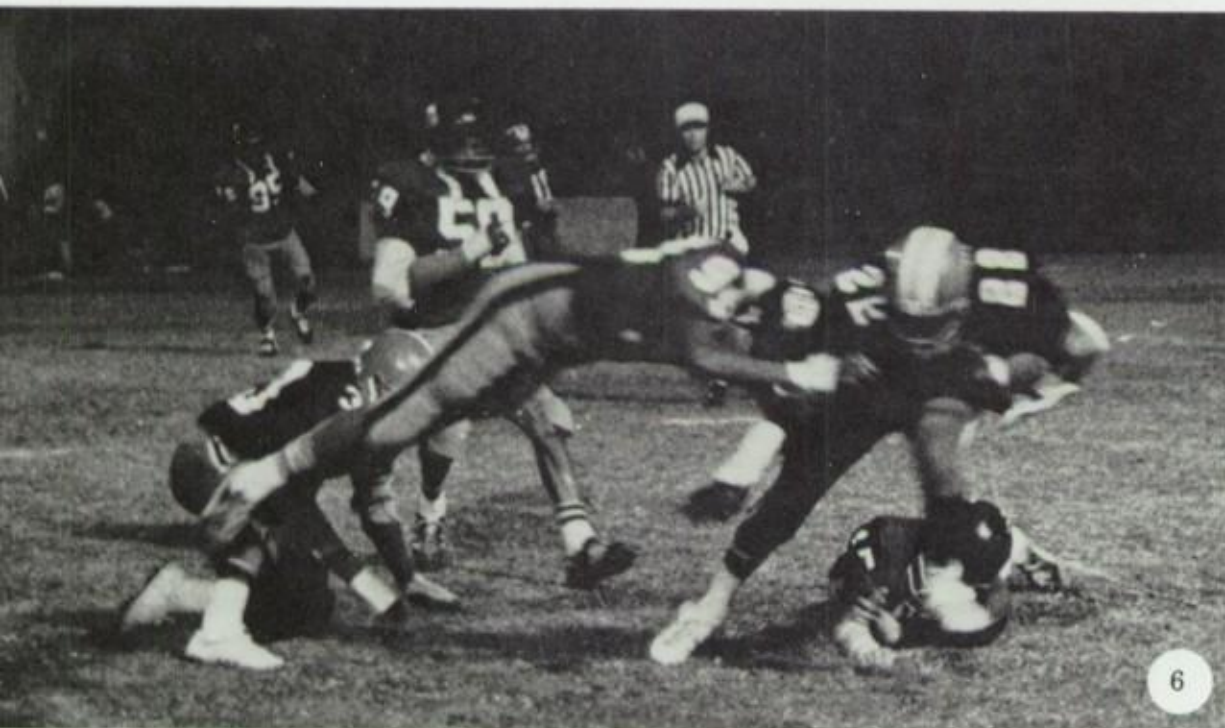

Homecoming proved to be a very exciting night for the Cyclones. Besides choosing a new queen, the Cyps ran up against a tough Winnsboro team. The game was tied at 6-6 when time ran out. In a sudden death overtime, the Cyps scored again to win the game.

Newberry surprised the Cyclones at their next game. Playing in Newberry, the Cyps had a few bad breaks, but they added up to a loss. Even though they played a good game the Cyps lost by a score of 14-17.

What a game!

Chester met their next opponent on a very cold night in Union. The Yellow-jackets were tough and held the Cyps to a scoreless game. Chester gave the game their all, but several injuries hindered the Cyps from playing their best. The game ended with Union winning 11-0.

After losing two games in a row, the Cyps weren't about to let Rock Hill show them up. In the first half both the offense and defense scored. The Cyclones continued to dominate the game and ended up winning the game 27-0. This boosted their record to four wins and three losses.

1. You haven't got a chance against Jimmy Jones and Charles Radford. 2. "Get out there and . . ." explains Coach Dennie. 3. "Look what I got, Coach!" yells Larry Hall. 4. Cyclone players gang up against a big one. 5. Struggling for yardage, John Stewart finds himself surrounded by Union players. 6. Not even a flying tackle can stop Jerry Davis. 7. The Cyps score again.

75 Season Record: Best Since 1963

The eighth game was a classic for the Cyclone team as they battled Northwestern. Getting fired-up first, the Trojans took the lead. The Cyclones struggled back to regain power and then took their lead to a 28-12 win.

The 9th game pitted Chester against Gaffney. Gaffney hadn't won a game all year and as it turned out this wasn't going to be their game to win either. The final score was 24-0. This victory assured the Cyclones of a winning season.

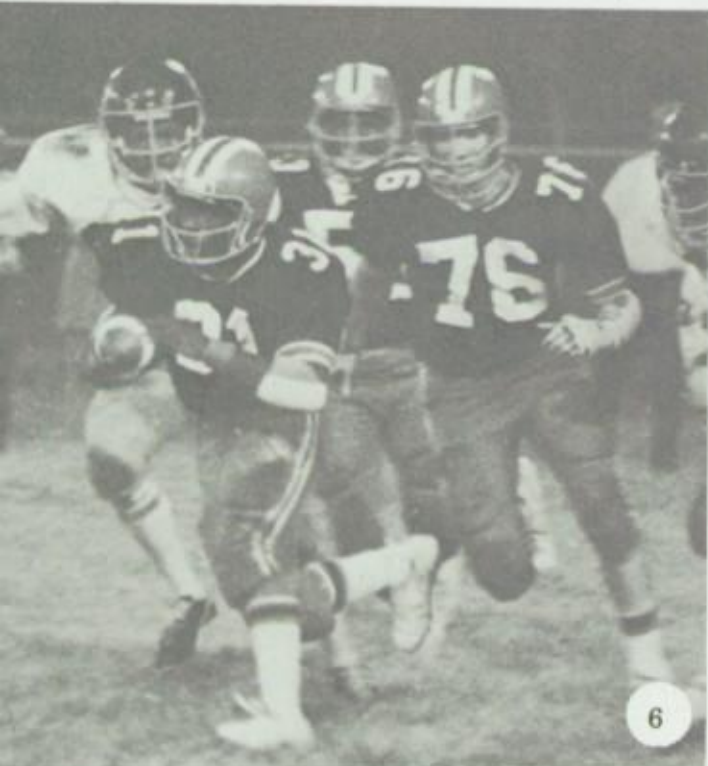

1. Ready or not here I come! 2. Tough Cyclone defense surrounds a Northwestern player. 3. Let go you big lugg! Please? 4. After a quick handoff by Kim Kimmell, Larry Hall heads for the other end of the field. 5. Excuse me fellows, I'm just passing by. 6. Sprinting down the 20 yard line, Lionel Bland races for another first down. 7. You're suppose to tackle him, Jimmy Jones, not pull his pants off. 8. Charge on Mighty Cyclones!!!

The most important game of the season was against Lancaster. The winner of this game would represent the conference as the runner-up team. The team fought hard but the game ended as a great disappointment for Chester. The final score was Lancaster — 14, Chester — 8.

The last game saw the Great Falls Red Devils come into Chester's stadium for an intercounty rivalry. The Red Devils played tough but the Cyclones charged on to a 20-0 victory. This gave Chester a 7-4 record for the season, the best record since 1963.

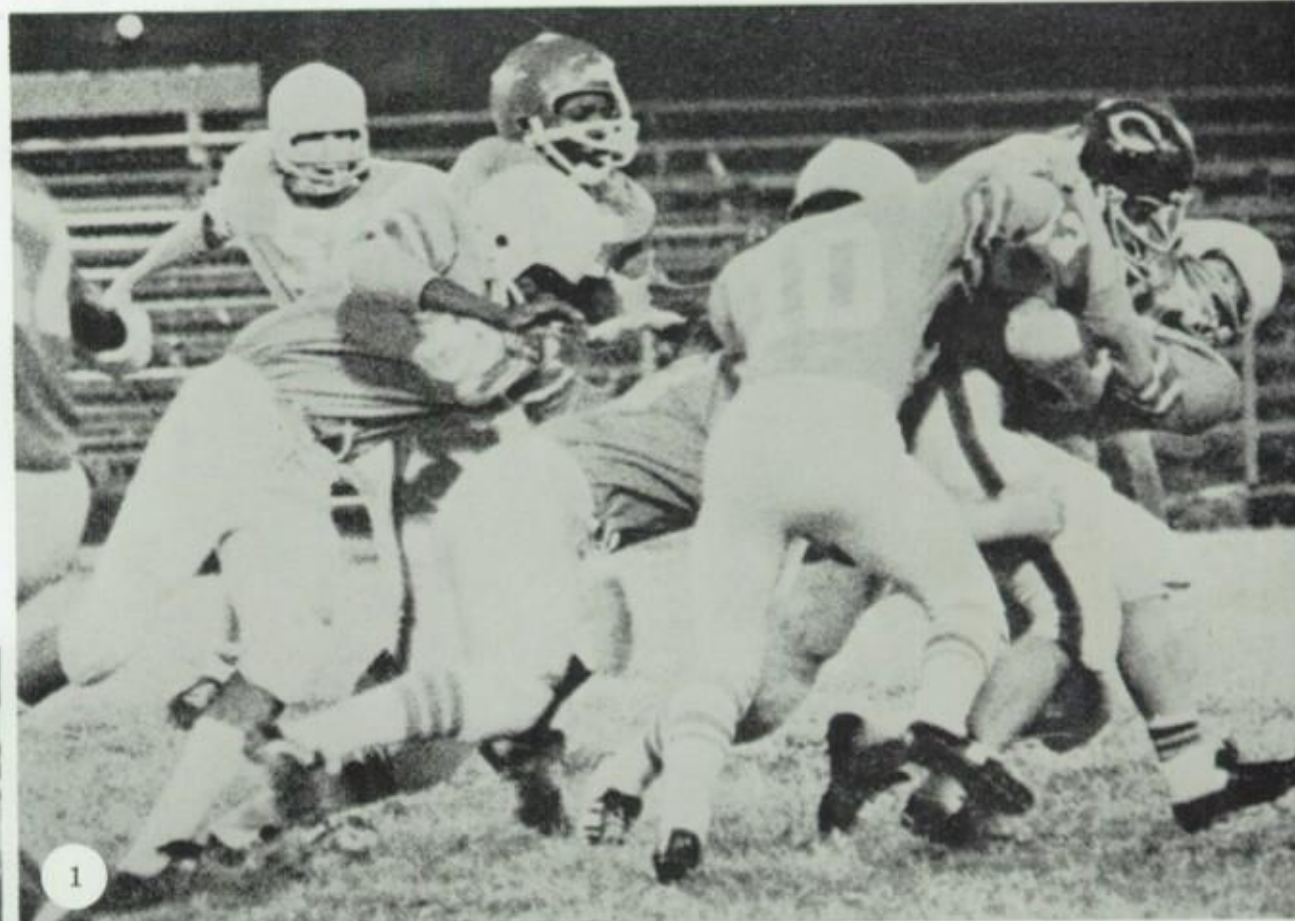

The JV's Were a Tough Team to Beat!

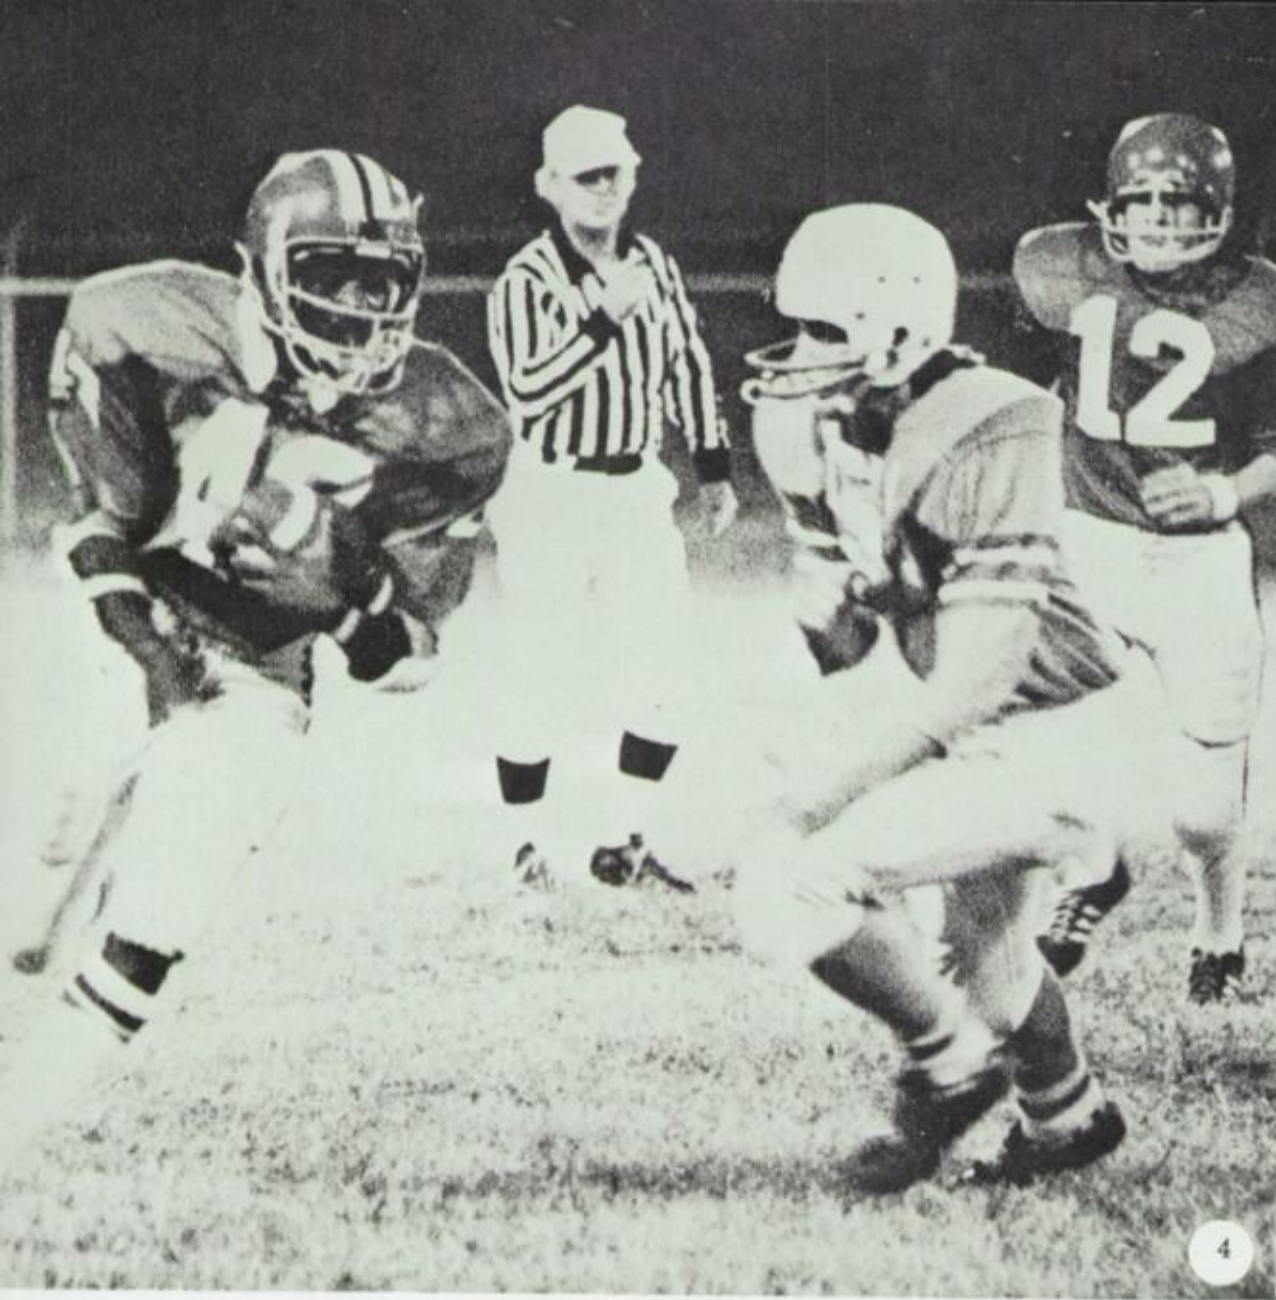

What made the JV football team so successful this year? Hard work! Those guys put all that they had into every game that they played. They combined skill and determination to achieve a winning team.

Like every team that has ever played football, they had problems. But they worked them out and developed a great team. Under the leadership of coaches Kimmell, Force, Clark, Leslie, and Dennie, the JV's showed their opponents that they were a tough team to beat.

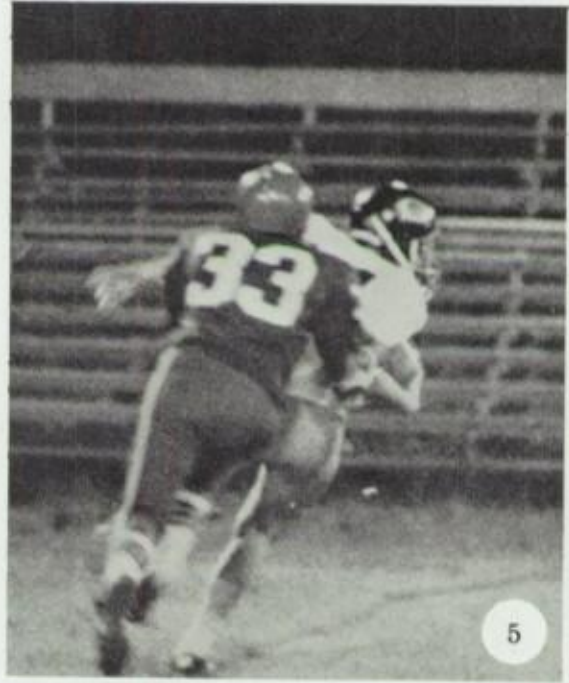

1. Tough opposition traps a Fighting Cyclone. 2. Shooting for the gap, Willie Dye looks for room to run. 3. Is there a football in this mass of players? 4. Charging for a touchdown, Heyward Elam dodges his opponent. 5. In pursuit of a Gaffney player, Gene Cudd displays an open field tackle.

Freshmen Can Play Football?!

Many people think that a freshmen football team is just a team that knows nothing and is just out to gain experience for next year. Well, maybe this is true of some B teams but not Chester High's B team. This B team went out to play football, and play football they did!

At first they had very few freshmen who wanted to play. Then, as practice progressed, more boys began to come out. They ended up with 30 boys on the team, not many individuals, but they didn't play as individuals. They played as a team!

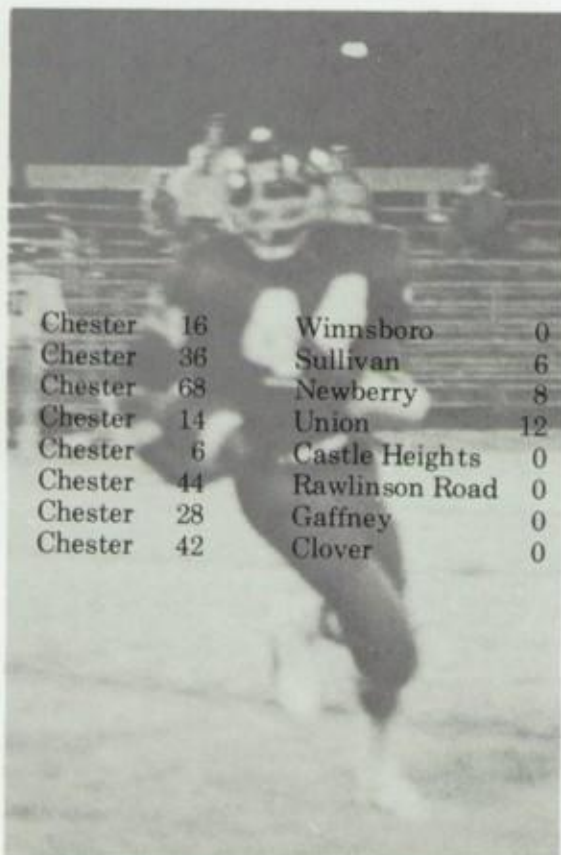

This team performed many miraculous feats this year. For example, in one game, the B team quarterback threw 4 TD passes and the punt returner returned 2 punts for TD's. In another game the B team defense held the conference champs not only scoreless, but also to minus yardage. This feat was considered the finest performance by the B team defense all season.

The little Cyclones were indeed the most feared, toughest team in the conference. This was mainly because of 2 things: the first being the great coaching and leadership of Owen Privette, Max Dorsey, and Sam Moore, and the second being the way they played as a team, helping each other to prove themselves.

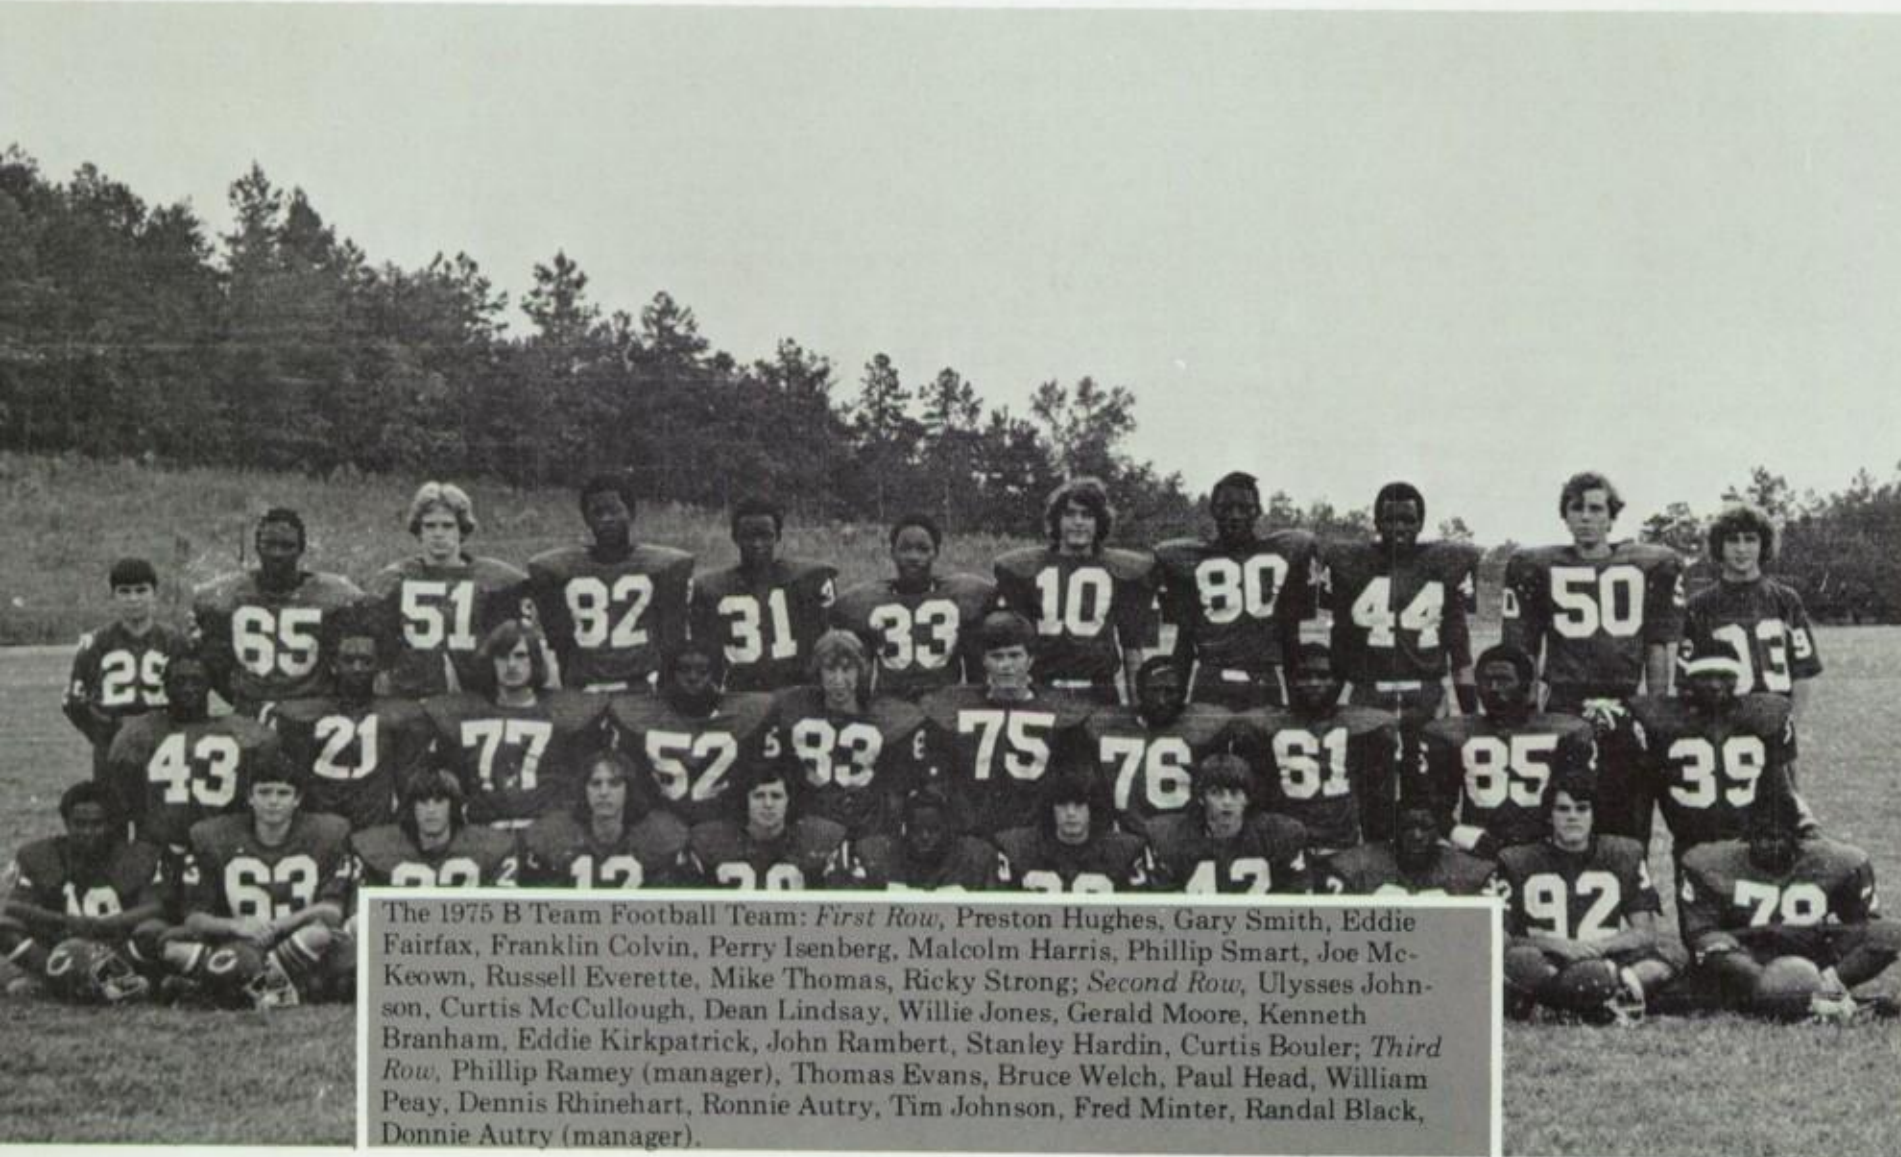

The B Team is in the Southern Piedmont Ninth Grade Football Conference and won their conference title this year. They went undefeated, winning 8 games and losing none.

Wrestling: A New Escape for C.H.S.

Wrestling, another exciting sport, was added to the CHS athletic program this year. Under the coaching of Sam Clark, the team experienced a very educational first year. Lack of experience and a slow start due to football practice held our wrestling team back a good bit, but enthusiasm and high interest certainly helped to push the program forward.

With plenty of boys returning next year, Chester High's wrestling team is sure to be a big threat in the conference.

1. "Hey Ref, tell this guy to quit biting my leg," shouts Lionel Bland. 2. Working for the pin, Harry Williams grasps his opponent. 3. "That's not the way to do a body-slam, Darnell White."

Volleyball Started at C.H.S.

One of the new sports added this year was volleyball. Although they didn't have an impressive record team spirit was high. Many of the teams they played had 5 and 6 years of experience. This team was coached by Miss Brenda Bowden. She worked hard coaching these girls how to play volleyball.

Many of these had played volleyball before, but they were taught a kind of volleyball they had never played before. They practiced hard every day, and it began to pay off toward the end of the year. They could have given keen competition to any team they played at the end of the year. A successful year is expected next year because of the return of many experienced players.

1. Watching her teammates return a serve, Brenda Fair waits her turn. 2. Setting up to hit the ball, Bonnie Stephenson gets ready to hit the ball. 3. Getting in position, Vera Wylie is ready for the serve.

Cyclonettes Rebuild the Team

The 1976 Girls Basketball Team lacked all their starters from last year's team. To be assured of a good season, they began practicing early in October. The season got off to a slow start, but the girls improved as the year progressed. Coach Sue Misenheimer said that the main problem was putting five girls on the court that could work well together. Using different offensive and defensive plays, Mrs. Misenheimer formed a good team. Next year the team will be an experienced one in that only four players will graduate.

1. Boy could we use some gatorade! 2. The object of the game is to get the ball, not stand there and look at it. 3. "Coach, I told you that all of this practice could ruin a person!" moans Karen Peterson. 4. Teamwork helps Sheila Stewart get an easy two points! 5. Driving the lane for an easy lay-up is Patricia Gist's specialty. 6. Watching Permilla Hinton stretch for a rebound, Evelyn Ryan looks on in amazement.

Win or Lose, the Team Never Lost Spirit

Many of the games this year were close. No one knew until the last quarter who would win. The girls had plenty of spirit and always held their heads high, no matter whether they won or lost. It is important to have a winning team, but the players must be good sports in order to have a successful team. Coach Misenheimer thought this year was a successful one, as the girls gained experience for next year and learned to cope with winning and losing.

1. This is basketball, not soccer, Evelyn Ryan. 2. After a win, Coach Misenheimer does wierd things. 3. "Get your hand off my ball, can't you see I'm trying to shoot," mumbles Gloria Wilson.

Boy's Varsity Prepares For Next Year

The Varsity Basketball team, under the leadership of Coach George Simpson, this year produced a team with little experience, but with greater ability. Even with stiff competition the boys had a very good season. In order to prepare for this year's season, they started practice in November. Three starters returned to a team composed of mostly the J.V. team from last year.

Also helping Coach Simpson with his team were Coaches Leslie and Dennie. Without the help of these two, Coach Simpson wouldn't have been able to build as good a team as he did. The boys team came out on top this season. Looking forward to next year, the varsity is building an even stronger team.

Girls' B-Team Basketball Added

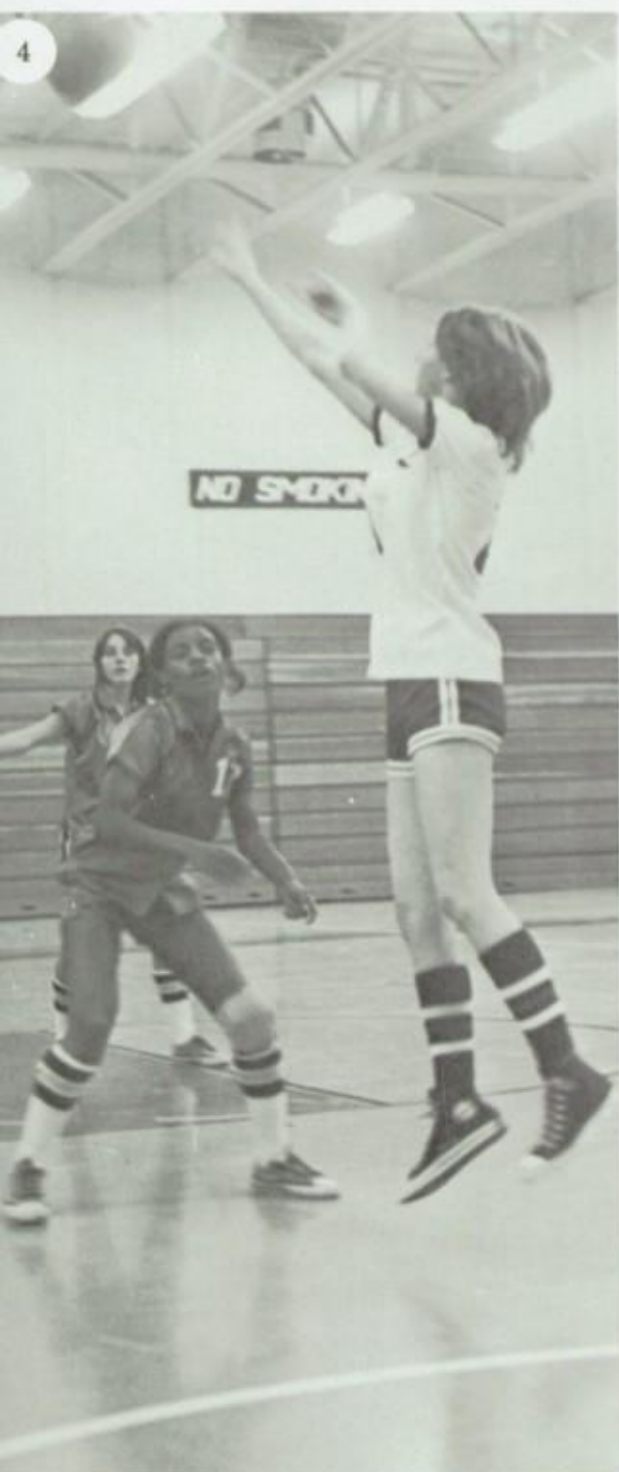

Many new sports were added this year. One of those added was ninth grade girls' basketball. The girls played hard, as they prepared for the varsity team. They gained valuable experience in playing basketball.

The Ninth Grade Girls' Team was coached by Derrell Force. He had much confidence in his team and was sure that they would produce a good varsity squad next year.

1. Out jumped by her opponent, Vicky Hatchell still tried hard. 2. Shaking off her opponent, Anita Pendergrass goes for the score. 3. JV's — Something To Be Reckoned With

Earlier in the year, the Junior Varsity Basketball had some problems with teamwork and coordination. Now they've got it all together, and it shows. The Junior Varsity went out there with determination and won some games. Under the coaching of Stuart Leslie, the Junior Varsity team gave better than they got. The Junior Varsity showed us this year that they're something to be reckoned with.

1. "Let's see now, I think I'll put it over to the left a little," figures Willie Dye. 2. Twoosh Fred Minter dunks an imaginary ball. 3. Taking to the air, Chuck Kilpatrick tries desperately for two points. 4. A jump shot comes easy for Philip Johnson. 5. Holding his breath Charles Brown hopes his opponent won't score.

Learning Develops Potential

The B-team Boys' Basketball Team went through a year of learning this year. The main problem they had was a lack of height. Coached by Coach Duane Dennie, the team found that the majority of the teams that they faced were much taller than they were. One asset for the ninth grade team was their speed and quickness. The ninth grade program is set up to develop the ballplayer with good potential into a better ballplayer who may someday play varsity basketball.

1. Blocking out their opponent, Tim Johnson (44) and Curtis McCollough (32) get the rebound. 2. Despite the outstretched arm of a defender, Curtis McCollough (32) coolly fires his jump shot toward the goal. 3. In a crowd of people, Melvin Elam (22) puts up a shot. 4. Looking for 2 points, Tim Johnson (44) takes the ball to the hoop. 5. The members of this year's 9th grade team: Bernard Elam — Manager, Melvin Elam, Ulysses Johnson, Thomas Caldwell, Quinton Feaster, Curtis McCollough, Tim Johnson, Gerald Moore, Earl Clark, Earl Elam, Dennis Rhinehart, Coach Duane Dennie. 6. Concentration is a big part of basketball. Tim Johnson concentrates as he shoots a free throw. 7. Referee Tom Gaskins seems to be the only one interested as Quinton Feaster shoots a free throw.

Teamwork Produces an Exciting Team

The 1976 Baseball Team: First Row — Eddie Copeland, Billy Matthews, Jim Wilson, William Peay, Perry Isenberg, Eddie Melton, Phillip Smart, and Eddie Fairfax; Back Row — David Peay, Derrell Force, Hal Wages, Mitch Gregory, Chuck Ware, Lee Holcombe, Eddie Hargette, Jimmy Jones, Bill Nash, Tim McNinch, Scott Thomas, and Owen Privette.

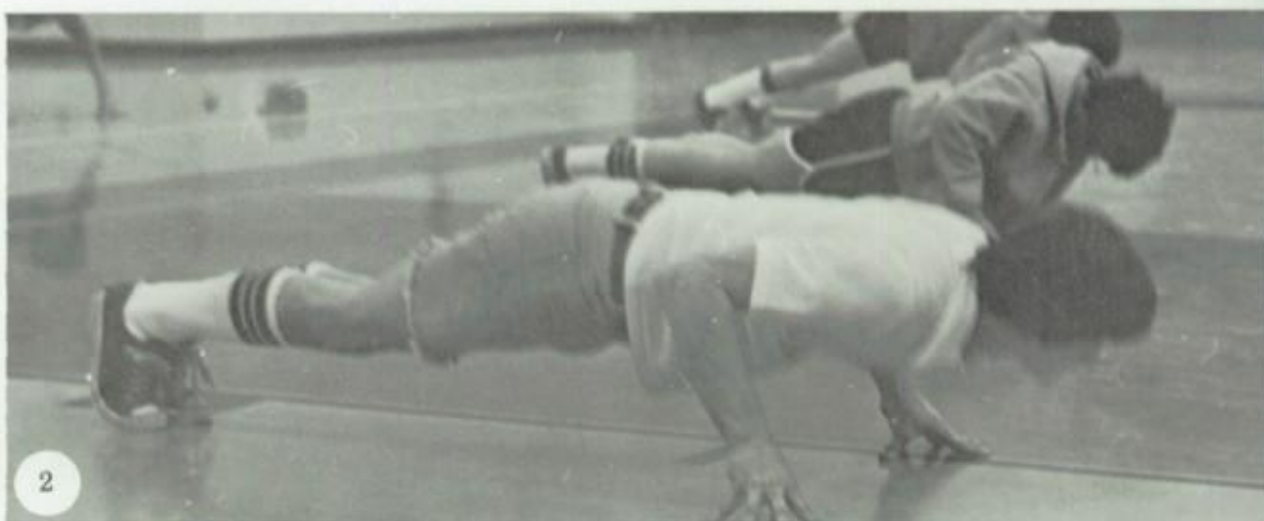

The 1976 CHS Baseball Team played very well this past season. One of the main reasons for their exciting play was that they played together as a team.

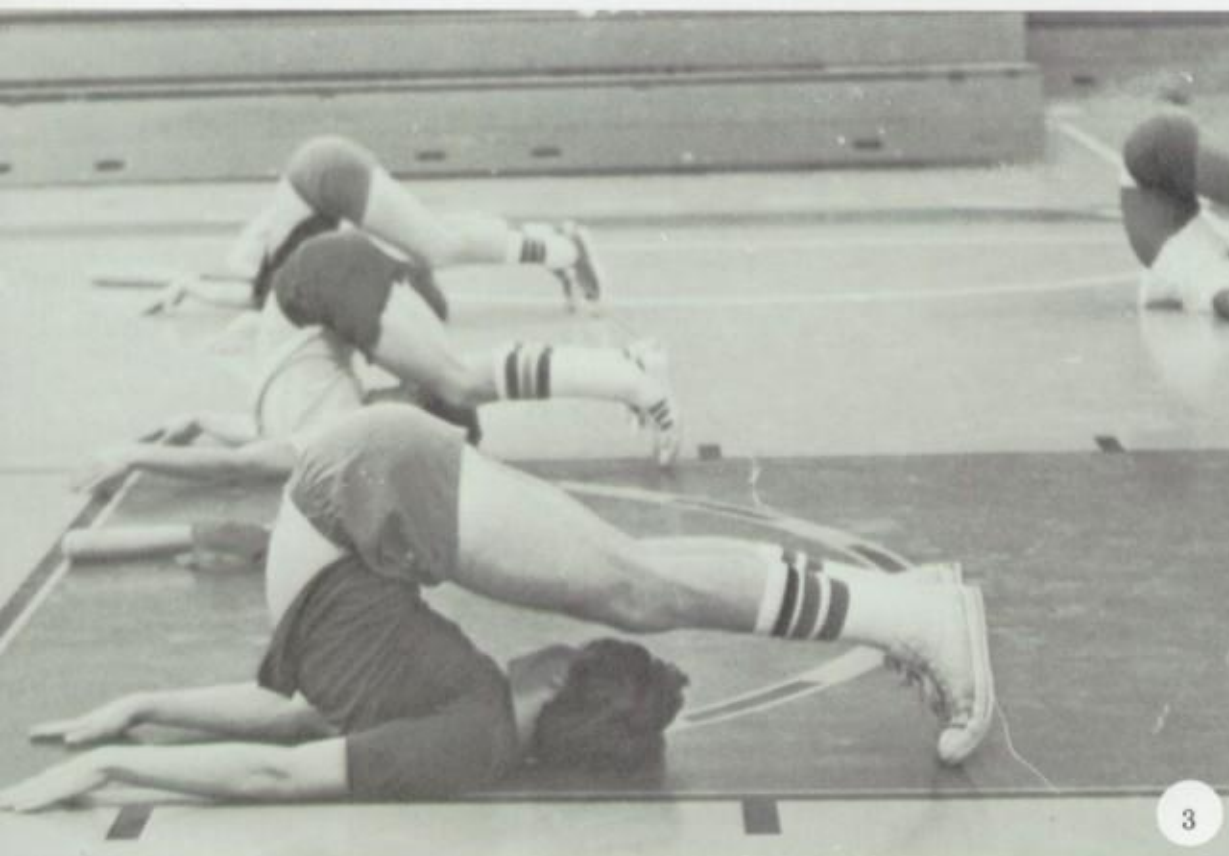

This year's team had more experience than teams in the past. CHS had many starting players to return from last season.

Coach Derrell Force took control for his second straight year and put the team together. He added Coach Owen Privette as an assistant coach to help him with the team.

In order to get ready for the 25 game schedule, the Cycs started practicing in January which gave them a better chance to come out a winner.

1. Helping Scott Thomas with his pick-up, Coach Privette watches intently. 2. "This sure is tough on the fingers", gripes Jimmy Jones.

1. "Now this is the way to swing a bat," Hal Wages explains to the team. 2. "OK coach, you can throw the ball now," yells Scott Thomas. 3. Getting in shape is an important factor in baseball.

Girls Tennis Holds Individual Power

In February Coach Sue Misenheimer anticipated a winning season and a good chance to take the conference championship again this year, due to the fact that she has 4 out of 6 starters returning this year. She said that the championship won't be taken with team power alone, but by individual power. In preparation for this year's season the girls practiced every day after school, plus many hours of extra play on weekends and at night.

1. "Oh, I could beat ya'll any day of the year," Karen Peterson tells Evelyn Ryan and Sheila Stewart. 2. "I can hit it, you fool!" shouts Evelyn "Rook" Ryan. 3. Displaying her perfect form, Carol Anne McCrorey demonstrates the scoop hand style.

1. "There it goes!" says Barbara Wilson. 2. "Will it go over?" wonders Karen Peterson. 3. Does it hurt that much, Rook? 4. "Maybe someday I'll play at Wimbledon," dreams Sheila Stewart.

Boys' Tennis Returns With Experience

The 1976 Boys' Tennis team looked forward to a competitive and winning season when practice started in winter. Under the leadership of Coach Duane Dennie, the team was composed of experienced players, as only two starters from last year's squad graduated. Although the competition is stiff, a majority of the players have been playing since the team was started two years ago. To show dedication for the sport, each individual must improve himself not only during practice, but also on weekends and at night. Whether it be returning a serve, smashing a lob, or serving the ball, the Chester High School Boys' Tennis Team should have its best year yet.

1. Showing correct form, Neil Bynum hits his forehand. 2. Following through with his backhand, Chris Stevenson whacks the ball. 3. Getting down low with the ball, Charles Ryan returns a forehand. 4. The object of the game is to hit the little ball Curt Hancock. 5. Using his own form Clay Young hits with his backhand. 6. "Now Kim Kimmell, you know that's not the way to do it instructs Curt Hancock." 7. Is that ball so interesting, John Holroyd?

Track! Off and Running at CHS

Boys track practice began about mid-January, practicing 2 afternoons a week. It was a different outlook this year because the girls weren't there to practice with them. A separate team was formed for the girls. The two teams did travel and compete together.

They had a new coach this year, Sam Moore. They ran against many of the same teams as last year, and their improvement was noticed by everyone. Each member of the team gave over 100 percent and team spirit was shown by everyone on the team.

Among the new sports added this year was girls track. Enough interest was shown by girls, so a team was formed for them. Last year the girls and boys teams travelled together and ran against the same school. All the other schools they ran against were also in their first year of girls track. Miss Bowden felt that her team gained much experience this year and will be ready next year.

1. The 1976 Girls Track Team: Shirley Rambert, Helen Hughes, Johnnie Lowery, Vera Wylie, Brenda Fair, Mary Boulware, Pam Clack, Linda Davis, and Vivian Jackson. 2. Looking toward the finish line, Vera Wylie dreams of a win. 3. Smiling seems to make it easier for Johnnie Lowery. 4. "I can do it!" groans Mary Boulware.

Interested Golfers Form a Good Team

The 1976 Golf Team has many enthusiastic players this year. These guys are so interested in golf that they play almost everyday. It doesn't matter whether it's raining or not, just as long as they get to play their sport. Coach Stuart Leslie, a new-comer from Newberry College, took over the team this year and did a splendid job. Back in February Coach Leslie stated that he had high hopes for his team and would work hard during their regular season, so they could make a good showing at the tournament at Furman University, May 20-21.

1. 1976 Golf Team: First Row, Bill Hedgepath, Jack Simpson, Kevin Grant, John Russell Elliott, Ricky Hartsell, Richard Burton; Second Row, Keith Neal, Tim Autry, Bruce Gantt, Stan Overby, Joseph Boulware. 2. "My ballet lessons paid off," grunts John Elliott. 3. It looks like you could hit at least one ball, Stan Overby. 4. The perfect golfer? 5. "Help, Keith, I'm stuck in this position!" says Stan Overby. 6. Displaying perfect form, Keith Neal tees off.

These Four Girls Sure Can Yell!!!!

Cheerleading is an honor to any girl who is chosen. This year's Junior Varsity Cheerleaders were no exception. The squad was very small, because at the end of the year only four girls remained. These girls were all sophomores. The captain was Peggy Sanders. Backing her up were Lawanna Jeter, Zenovia Brown, and Maureen Moore. With Ms. Brenda Bowden as their advisor, the girls really enjoyed their duty of cheering the J.V. team on to victory. To them cheering was a real honor and one which they were proud of.

1. J.V. cheerleader advisor Miss Brenda Bowden. 2. "Come fly away with me," says Maureen Moore. 3. Demonstrating one of the cheerleader stances, Lawana Jeter cheers the team on. 4. "Mama never told me that cheerleading could be like this," says Peggy Sanders. 5. Showing true Cyclone spirit, the J.V. cheerleaders hold their place in the Jamboree Caravan. 6. 1976 J.V. Cheerleaders: Zenovia Brown, Peggy Sanders, Lawana Jeter, and Maureen Moore. 7. "ALRIGHT that's the way to do it," yells Zenovia Brown.

Best Cheerleaders in Five Years

Cheering the teams on to victory, Anne Robbins, Linda Overby, Susan Johnson, Shelli Parker, Ellen Atkinson, Bridgette Lann, Wanda Everett, Cherry Bailes, Sharon Wilmore, and Rose Mary Jeter are our 1975-76 cheerleaders.

Miss Duncan, the cheerleaders' director and advisor, said "This year's cheerleaders are the best group that has been at Chester High School for the past five years!" Ann Hicklin is the assistant director and advisor.

Last summer the cheerleaders went to Furman University to the National Cheerleaders' Association Camp where they won three ribbons for their participation and excellence. They have had several bake sales in order to get new uniforms.

They have reduced their practice sessions from five days per week in the summer, to three days per week during school.

It is really nice to see these girls take such an interest in the sports activities this year. They are really good, and seem to go at their work with enthusiasm and wholeheartedness.

1. Cyclone cheerleaders prepare to lead the caravan to the Jamboree. 2. Mr. C aids the cheerleaders in leading one of the cheers. 3. Jumping 10 feet in the air helps Anne Robbins show her Cyclone spirit. 4. Cyclone spirit is led by the cheerleaders at the ballgames. 5. Cheerleader advisors, Miss Duncan and Miss Hicklin, show their spirit at the pep rally. 6. Painting posters is one of the many duties of being a Cyclone cheerleader. 7. 1975-'76 Cheerleaders: Anne Robbins, Rosemary Jeter, Cherry Bailes, Bridgette Lann, Susan Johnson, Sharon Wilmore, Linda Overby, Ellen Atkinson, Shelli Parker, and Wanda Everette.

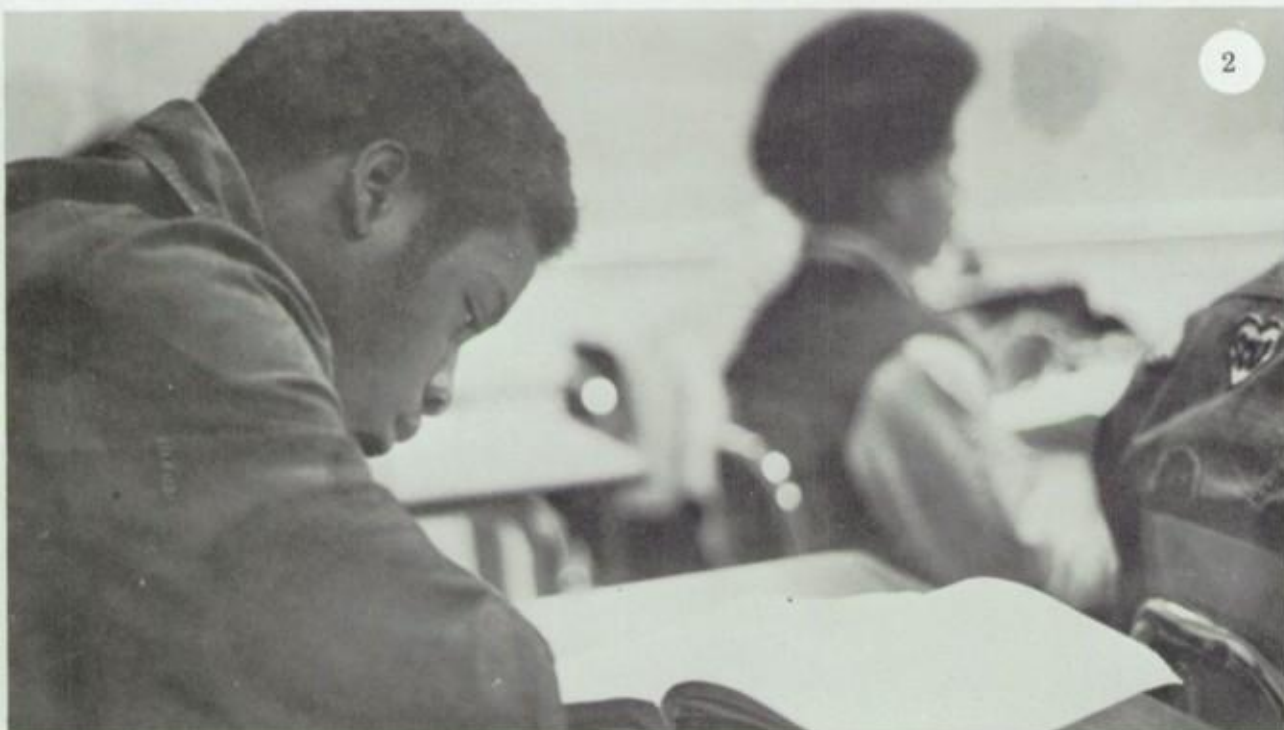

A high-contrast, black and white graphic featuring a stylized sunburst or starburst pattern. The pattern consists of numerous white, rectangular rays of varying lengths radiating from a central white semi-circular area. The background is solid black. At the bottom of the white semi-circle, the word "ACADEMICS" is written in a bold, white, sans-serif font, slightly arched to follow the curve of the semi-circle.

ACADEMICS

Whose Papers Are Worse?

"I just got back a paper from Miss Abercrombie. It was awful."

"I've got Miss Neely, and I bet she uses a gallon of red ink on every paper, more than Miss Abercrombie or Mrs. Hutchinson uses."

"Who did you have last year, Miss Bryant, Mrs. Nichols, or Mrs. Hempill?"

"I had Mrs. Nichols, and it was easier than this year."

"I know what you mean, English is my worst subject. I don't see why we have to learn what every word in a sentence means."

"Yea, but I guess you have to know that if you are going to get somewhere. No matter how much you hate it you're going to need it."

1. Hey, look at his Elton John imitation. 2. I guess you're right, thinks Neal Rhinehart, this is a book. 3. It takes Patti McKevitt a while to catch on. 4. "But I want to go home", says Jamie Aiken.

The Goodest Thang of Inglish

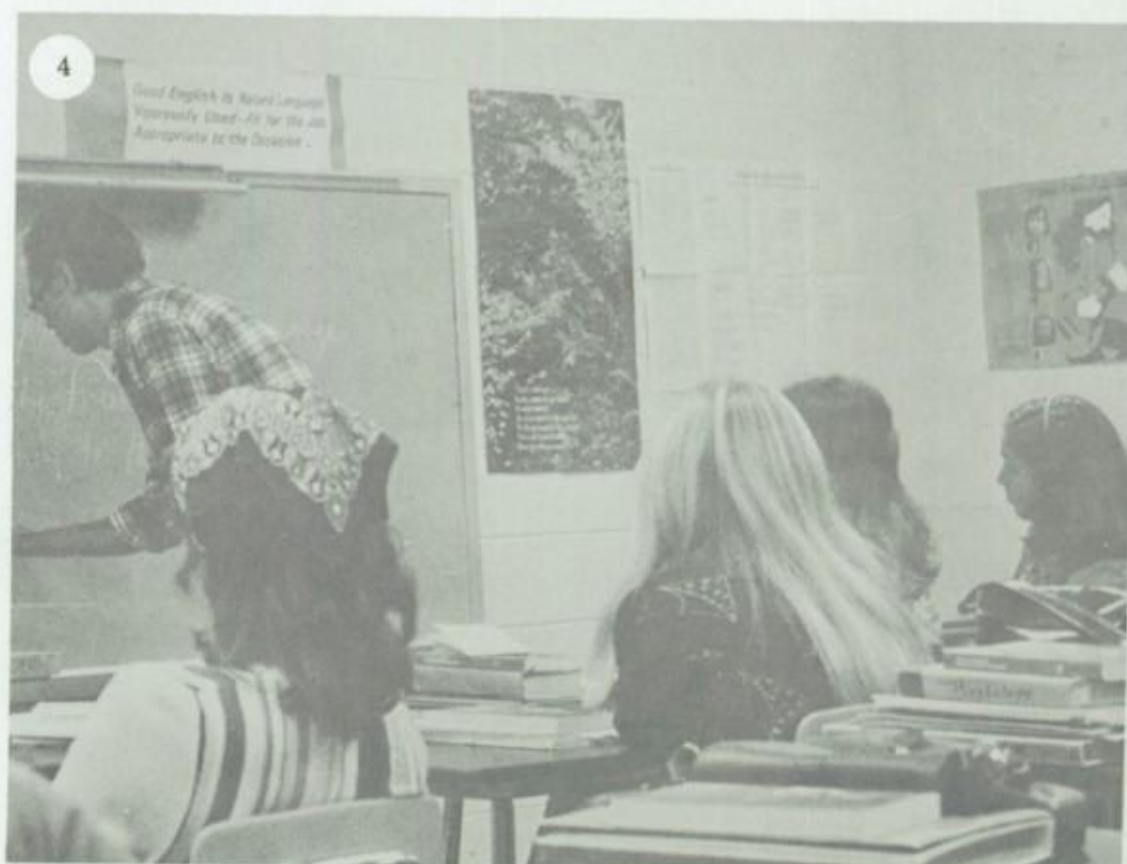

"I thing the goodest thang of Inglesh I thing is it learns us about to rite rite and tawk them thots and stuff like that you no what I'm mean don you. I tel you. It is fun? Funnner then goin out to rotate your tires at midnite!"

"Seriously, though, there are infinite advantages inherent in a real understanding of one's language. The most significant reason for such an understanding lies in the fact that language is not simply an airy abstraction, it is an essential part of every civilized human being, as important as sleep or friendship. Semantists have pointed out that the personality functions in direct relation to an individual's linguistic limits. In short, if you are at a disadvantage with your own language, you're in trouble, buddy! Not only will you be victimized by a competitive society, you will be imprisoned inside your own helplessly petrified self. Imagine that! Ouch!"

The professor toppled out of his chair onto the floor. A large dictionary had fallen off his bookself and knocked him out cold. Little birds flew around his head tweeting happily."

Non ²⁶00 Padgett

1. Yak, Yak, Yak, that's all Elaine Wishert and Claire Lewis ever do. 2. Our poet in residence from TAP's program, Mr. Padgett laughs at one of his classes. 3. "Run that one by me again!" thinks Robin Doster. 4. This is the way we write on the board.

Upsidedown And Over Again

Upsidedown and over again! That's what happened to the English classes this year. New courses for juniors and seniors were created, 19 in all. Some are for a semester and some are year long courses. The literature courses were divided into: Survey in English Literature, Survey of American Literature, Academic Research, Introduction to Poetry, American Voices, Teenager in Fiction, Creative Reading, Critical Reading and the Short Story, also, Reading the Newspaper, Reading Improvement and Mystery and Horror.

The Grammar courses include Practical English, Basic Grammar and Composition, Advanced Grammar and Composition.

The writing courses are Creative Writing and Journalism. There is also a Speech course offered.

So now you can have a choice as to what kind of English you want.

1. "Leaves keep falling on my head", sings John Brice. 2. Let's hide our noses from Lynn Lewis. 3. Nope, Kim Hope shakes her head, this is not my will. 4. "Look out Judy!" says Karen Collins, "Here comes Mrs. Titus."

"Madame Knight, do French owls really say qui instead of who?" "Mr. Stiff, is Spain near Lando?" These sayings are typical of language students. Of course all language students aren't that smart, but they're trying. Mrs. Knight delights her classes with Louis XIV, Napoleon and French history. Spanish students conjugate verbs, study the Latin American countries and build card houses.

*Peux-tu

1. Spanish tests make Janet Stevens cry! 2. Sitting in a daze, Charles Brown does not even realize anyone is around. 3. O.K., Robin Henderson, why aren't you watching the film? 4. Imitating a French kiss, Don Mobley scares Louise McElwee. 5. "Here, you take it", exclaims Melody Dawkins to John Elliot.

Flowers In Calculus

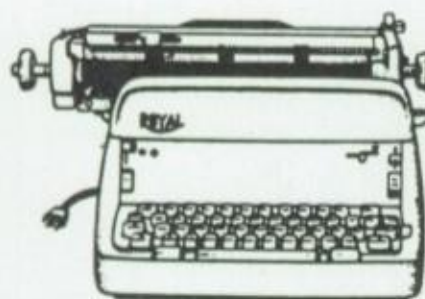

What class would you think you were in if you saw on the board flowers and snails? No, it's not art, but only Miss Underwoods room. Her students in Calculus, Trig., and Algebra practice drawing on the board. Mrs. Gill takes care of some of the other Algebra classes. Miss Walker and Mr. Lindsay teach Algebra and General Math. Mr. Murray, Mr. Privette, and Mr. Fair teach the other General Math classes. Mrs. Love teaches Geometry.

1. Geometry scares Don Mobley. 2. "Guess why I sit at the back of the room?" 3. Uh huh, Patrick Lourigan is cheating again. 4. Computing figures, Warren Lathrop decides whose is best. 5. Geometry thrills Aaron Faile.

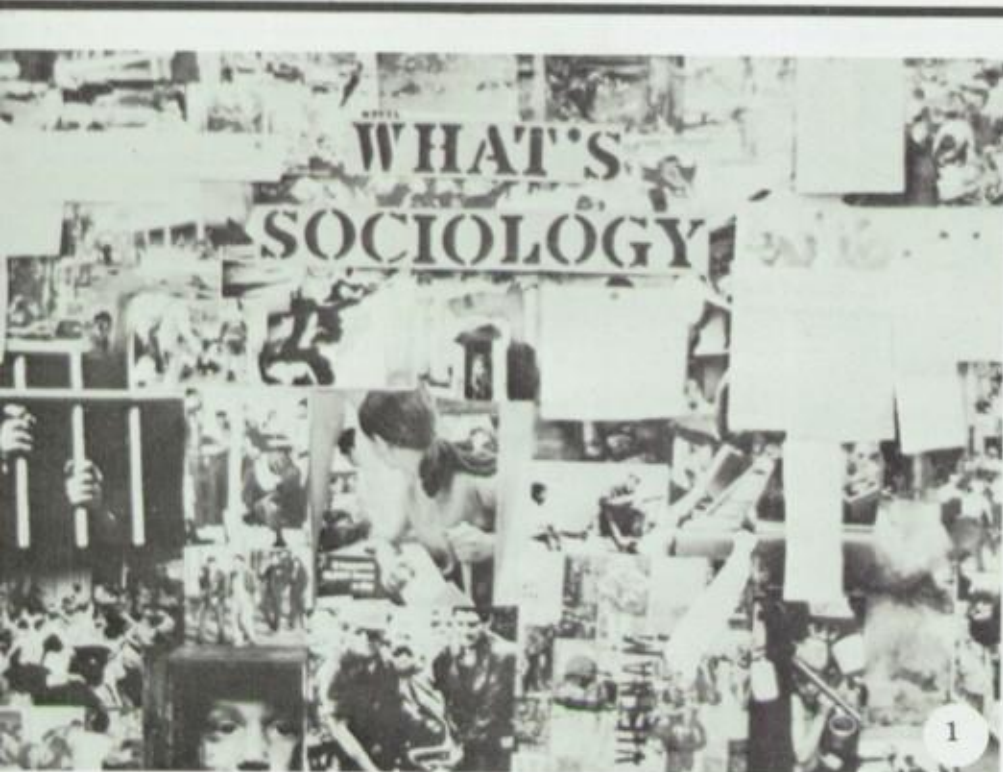

"Hey kid, get your finger off of my typing keys! That's right remove them before I have to remove you. Kid, why don't you get transferred into another business course? You can take Typing I or II with Mrs. Ford or Mrs. Harris instead of being in here with Mrs. Goggins. Really kid, it would do you good. You could learn enough about typing to get you through. Kid, why don't you take Shorthand I & II from Mrs. Harris and learn how to write 'I am stupid' with little lines that look like chicken scratches. Or you could take General Business, Accounting, or Office Practice taught by Miss Nelson. Yea kid, get off your knees, I guess I'll let you stay in this class."

1. Blank paper is uninteresting to Phyllis Caldwell. 2. Boys can type too, right Victor Brunet. 3. Click, click, click, click. 4. That's not getting your work done, Terri Campbell. 5. Now this is a, s, d, f.

Taking Care Of Business Now

You Take Study and I'll Take Social

"Whew"

"What's wrong?"

"I just finished one of Mrs. Hendrix's World History tests."

"Rough huh?"

"You bet. You're taking U.S. History aren't you? Do you have Mrs. Platt, Mr. Massey or Mrs. Lesslie?"

"Lesslie. It's interesting this year since it's the Bicentennial year. We are tying our studies in with 1776."

"That does sound interesting. You know who really have it easy this year? The freshmen do. They take Civics."

"They won't know how easy they had it until next year."

"Who is teaching it this year?"

"It's Mr. Force, Mr. McCorkle and Miss Hicklin."

"Hey, did you hear what Miss Duncan is teaching this year? Sociology and Anthropology!"

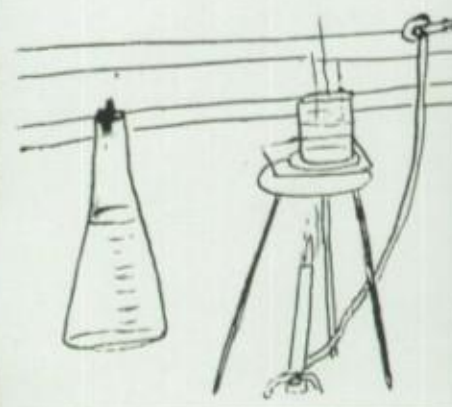

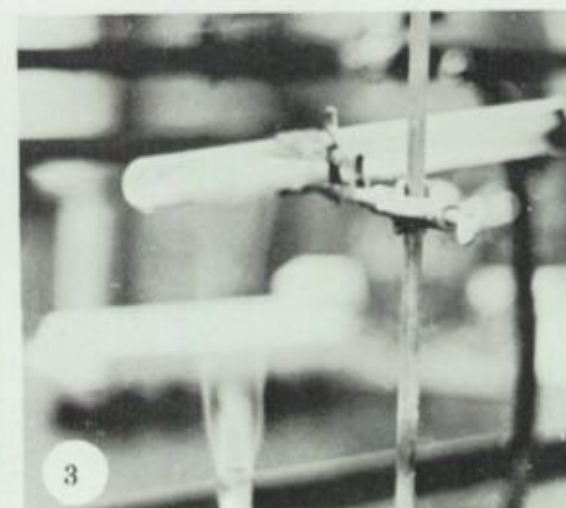

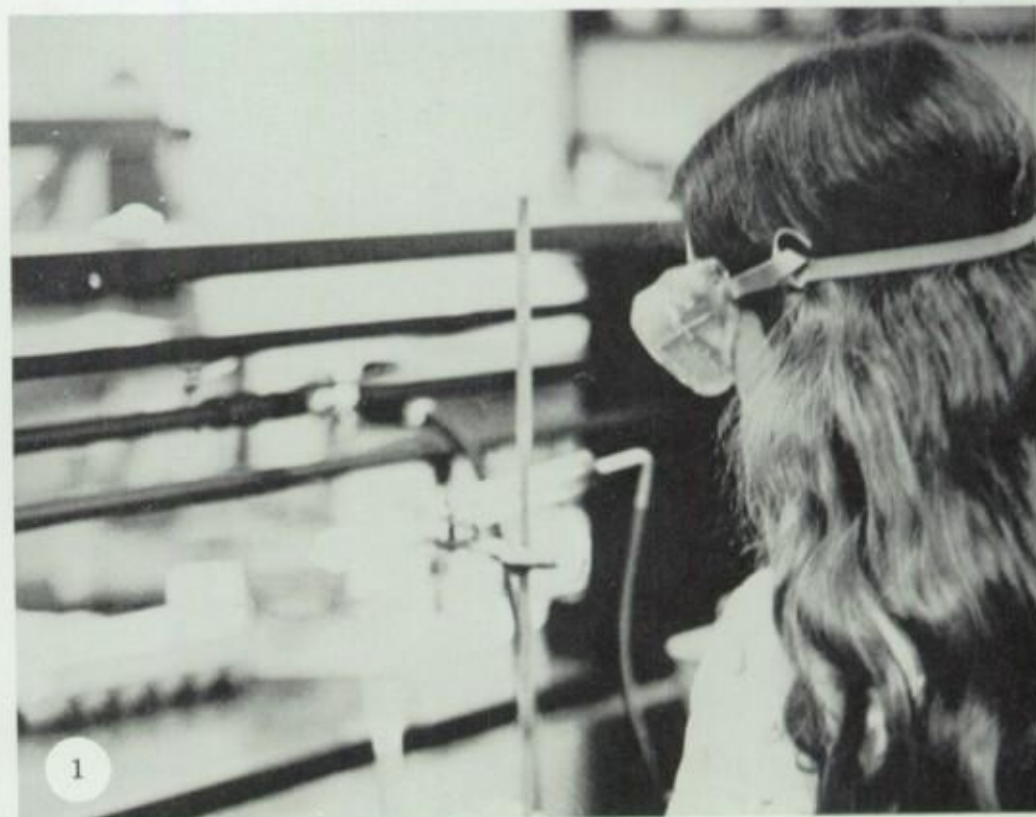

"Yes and Mr. Clark, Mrs. Hendrix, and Miss Hicklin are teaching American Gov't."

"You know that all this history stuff is really helping us."

"Yea, but I dread seeing how that World History test helped my average!"

1. What's Sociology? 2. Enjoying another exciting day in U.S. History are Kenny Jones, Chip McCants and Elaine Wishert. 3. "What do you mean that's not the right homework?", says Lynn Lewis.

Explosions In Chemistry?

"BOOM" "Mrs. Bankhead was that reaction supposed to happen?" "John, what did you do this time?" "I don't know . . ." This is just one of those incidents in chemistry. But this is not the only kind of science that has weird happenings. Just ask Mr. or Mrs. Moore about dissecting frogs or worms in Biology. What about all those bright students who cry after one of Mr. Campbell's Physics tests. Of course, something exciting is always occurring in Mr. Lesslie's and Mrs. Bankhead's General Science, and Mrs. Brice's Physical Science classes.

1. There goes Kathy Lourigan again, trying to prove that water is $\text{HCO}_6\text{HS}_4\text{NaH}_6\text{NH}_4\text{CO}_2\text{CNa}_8\text{O}$. 2. Working diligently, John Brice tries to blow up the world. 3. Fssssssssss . . . BOOM! 4. Mitosis really? #%&* us up.

O.K. People Let's Sketch And Act

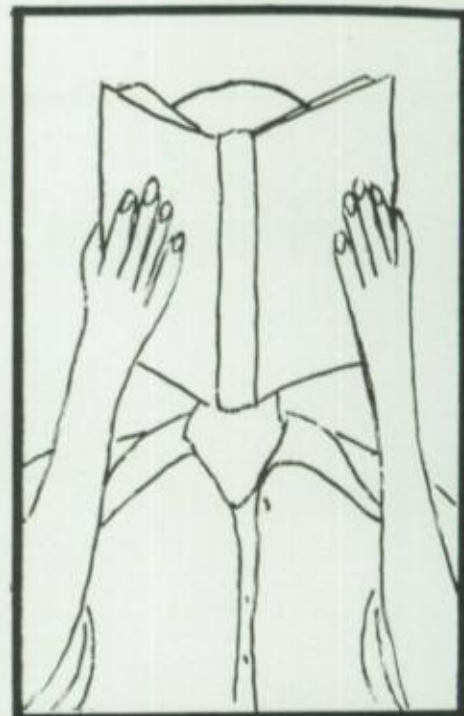

POP! "Hey, Mrs. Adams, are you sure my balloon was supposed to pop?" "Mrs. Knight, in that last act, do they have to pour a bucket of water on me?" Some of the students at C.H.S. have found that there can be a little bit of fun in school! Who ever thought they'd get to make pigs and aligators in school? Or get to put on their craziest acts in front of a teacher? Well, if you're in drama, taught by Mrs. Knight, or art, taught by Mrs. Adams, you'll get to act, draw, sew, and do all kinds of fun junk!

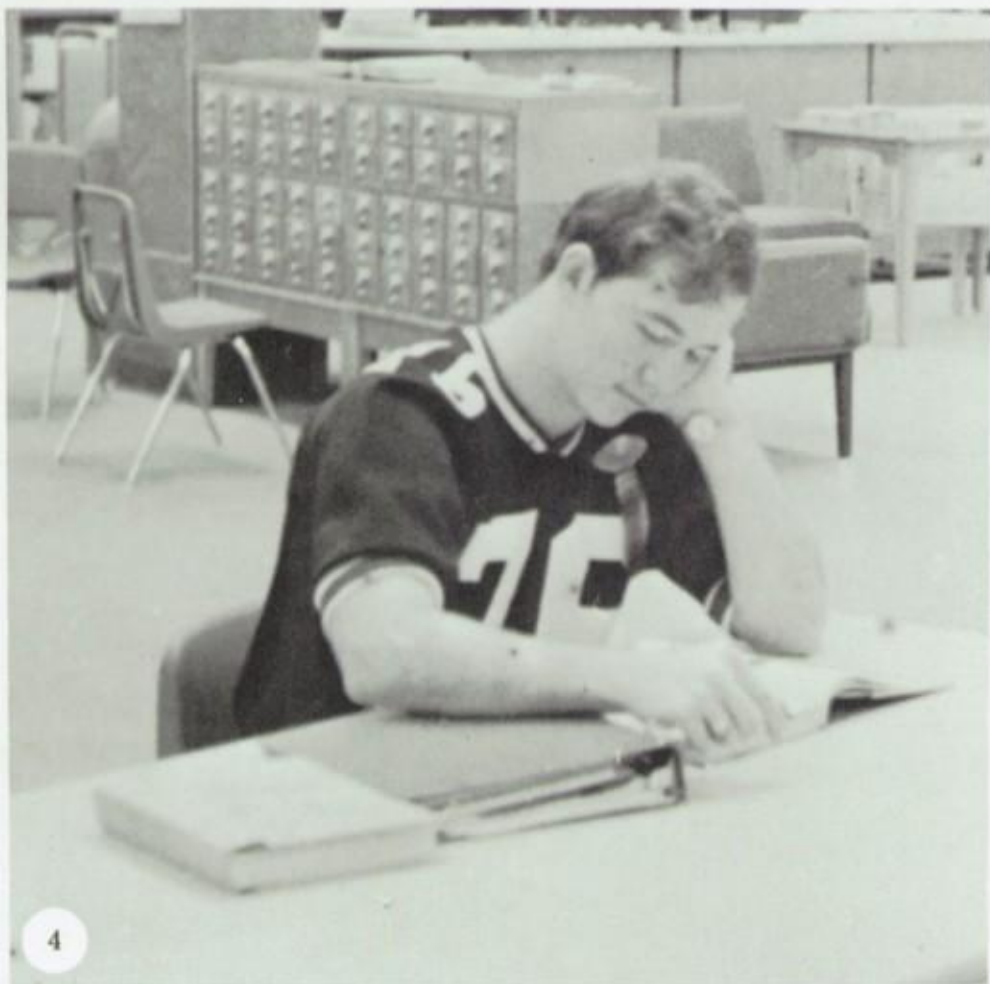

1. Reading the upsidedown paper, Mary Gwin and Wanda Darby amuse the others. 2. Seeing who can cut up the most, Carol Ann McCrorey and Karen Peterson begin to create. 3. The drama class wonders why they didn't take French. 4. Smiling ruthlessly, Joyce Fleming and Terry Wilks try to hide their mistakes.

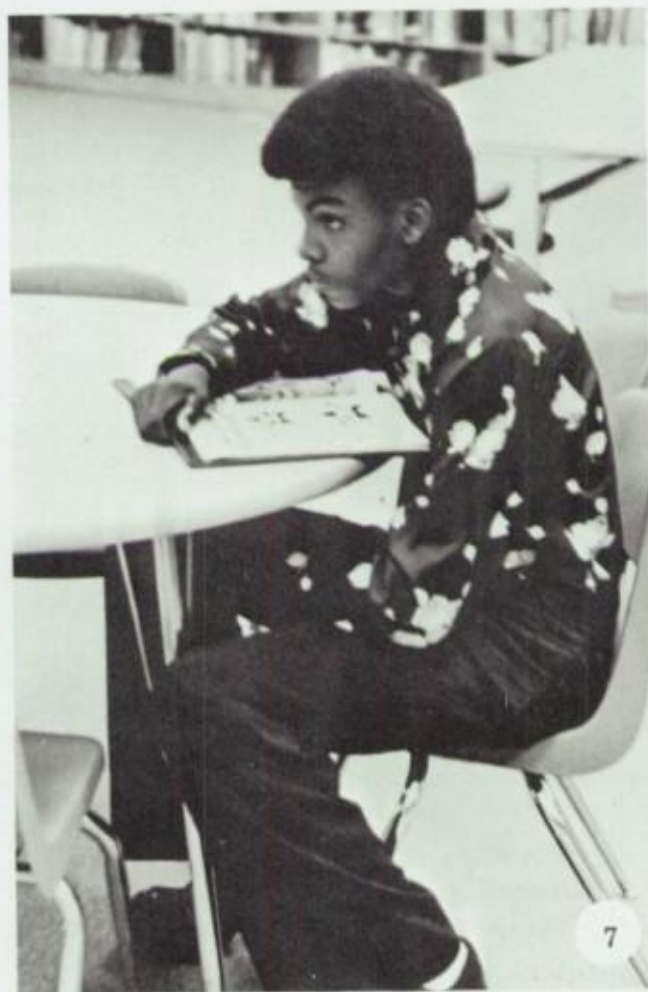

"Hey Charlie, have you seen that big room in the middle of the school? Yea, what could it be? The library? What's that? Of course I know they have books in there, I can see them. No, I'm not going in there. Some of that studying stuff might rub off. What? You've been in there? For what? To see 300 new books. I don't care."

SHH... Dummy This Is The Library

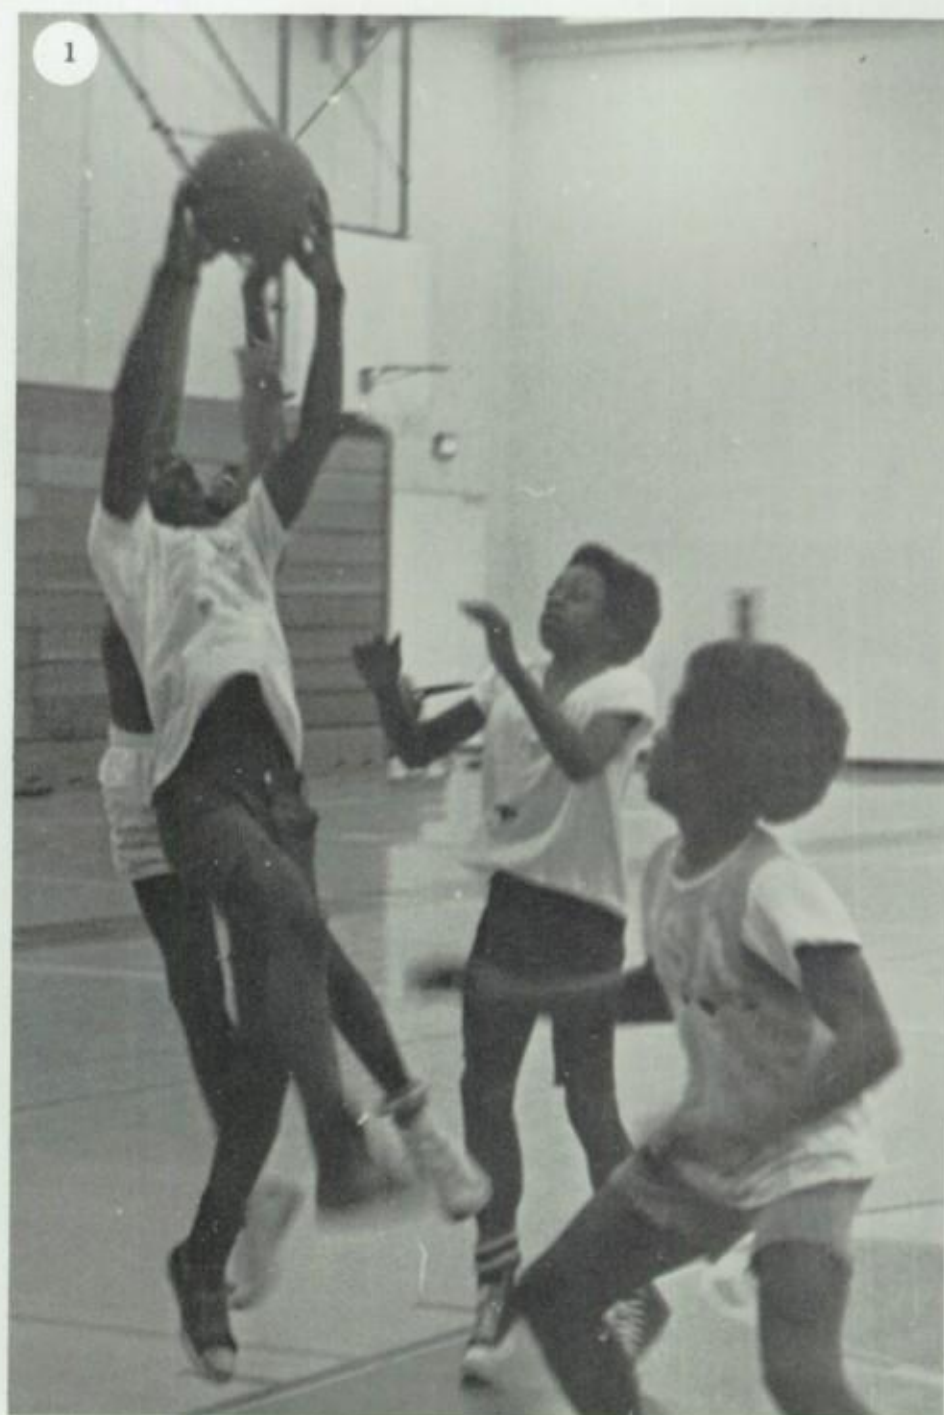

"Charlie, guess where I've been this week at lunch. In the library! What do you mean, how did I get to that? Well, I started with my English class. Yea, but it's a nice place. No, the librarians are not mean; in fact, Mrs. Weir taught me how to use the card catalogue. Yes! Quit laughing! Miss Kornahrens taught me the Dewey Decimal system. Mrs. Bratton has even been helping me find some good books to read. No, not the "Run, Dick, Run" kind. Charlie, will you stop laughing and screaming. I can't help it, I'm a library addict."

1. "Erasers don't taste as good as points", says Martha Levister. 2. Writing a letter, Pam Black remains serious. 3. Just relaxing in the pretty chairs at the library are Keith Weir, Cathy Jeannes, and James Strong. 4. Trying to think up a way to skip, Ricky Clack almost falls asleep. 5. When the library work gets boring, Mary Ann Swygert reads a good book. 6. What are Christina Hardin and Clifton Moore doing in the library? 7. What could be so interesting to Bobby Jeter.

Oh, Go Stand On Your Head

"Dress out? Are you crazy? It's cold out there." "How can my shoes stink? I washed them last month!" These are some of the questions that the P.E. teachers at CHS put up with. P.E. is a part of every freshman's life; it's inevitable. The P.E. classes are led by Brenda Bowden, Sue Misenheimer, Duane Dennie, and Monte Armes.

1. Playing ball are Donald Carter, Fred Wilmore, Chris Feaster, and Malcolm Harris. 2. A one-handed push-shot is not correct form for volleyball. 3. The girl's P.E. class plays volleyball.

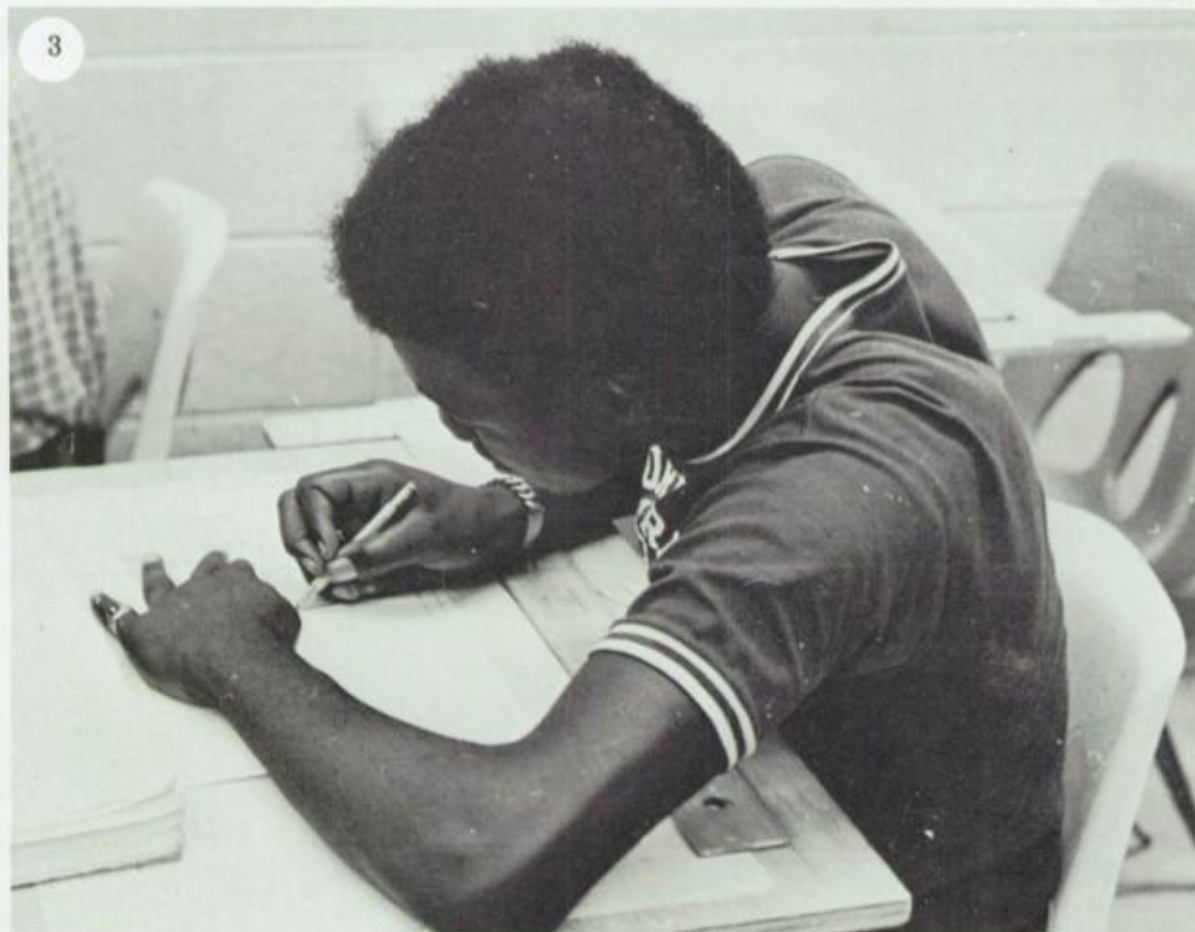

What's Practical Arts?

"BANG" ... "Uh ... son are you sure you weren't supposed to wait till the light turned green!". This could be an incident in Driver's Ed. if it were not for Mr. Jim Kimmell, the instructor. Fortunately, Mr. Kimmell teaches the students how to handle a car before he takes them out. Of course, that doesn't mean that there aren't any close calls. As a matter of fact, in years past the car has actually been wrecked. Nevertheless, after each semester course the Drivers Ed. class turns out a group of experienced, safe drivers.

1. Laughing is a favorite pastime of Regina Foote in D.E. 2. Drivers Ed class entertains Danny Parker and Angelo Chambers. 3. Working diligently is Michael Sanders in Pre-Voc.

D.E.! D.E.? What in the world! Driver's Ed.? Dum Ed-ward? Deloris Etherwonger? No!! Distributive Education. D.E. is a study of how goods such as, food, cloth, cars, etc. are produced and sold to consumers. This course is taught by Mr. Joe Snead. During the year he plans to take his students to the Merchant Market in Charlotte, N.C.

Hamburgers? Hamburgers are not Pre-Vocation, but that's one of the answers we got to the question what is Pre-Voc. Maybe it's a saying like "RATS". Pre-Voc. is a course taken by students who want to go to the Vocational School. Mr. George Simpson teaches the course. Maybe they make concrete hamburgers!

What's That Noise?!?

"Hey Charlie, what's that noise?" "That noise coming out of that room over there." "The band?" "The band of what?" "Oh, a group of people who play little musical instruments." "What exactly do they do?" "You know what I told you about yelling at me." "O.K., so they play for pep rallies, football games, marching contests and parades." "Did you know that you are cute when your face turns red?" "Yes, I understand that Mr. Green makes them practice a lot. They even started in August?"

1. The band performs at State. 2. Puckering up, Hilry Cunningham demonstrates perfect form. 3. The band practices in their beautiful uniforms. 4. Deep in concentration, Toye Richburg and Lethea Gerbers play their flutes.

Singing Do-Re-Me For An Hour

"Hey Charlie, I know what the noise coming out of that room is, but what's the noise coming out of this room?" "The chorus?" You mean people get a unit just for singing 'la de da' for 50 minutes?" "Don't yell at me!" "O.K. so they have concerts at Christmas, for the Bicentennial and in the Spring." "I bet Mrs. Cann and the classes put a lot of work into putting on a concert." "Some of the students attended All State try-outs and the Governor's Carolighting Festivities?"

1. The chorus class seems to amuse Debra Pierce. 2. "Why do we have to share music?", says Alberta Stewart. 3. Something very interesting seems to have distracted Brenda Doolittle.

Boys Can Cook?

"This 'tasting party' is something else. I mean eating our own food that we cooked ourselves is kinda . . . well discouraging." "I know what you mean, I'm not so sure that I want to eat something that another guy cooked. Who knows what he put in it? Maybe he got mixed up and put more salt than he was supposed to put in this stuff." "Yea, I suppose, but remember our first project of this Bachelor Living class? Measuring the ingredients? And our second project, cooking breakfast? That gave us a little bit of experience, I hope." "I guess you're right. Maybe this party isn't such a bad idea after all."

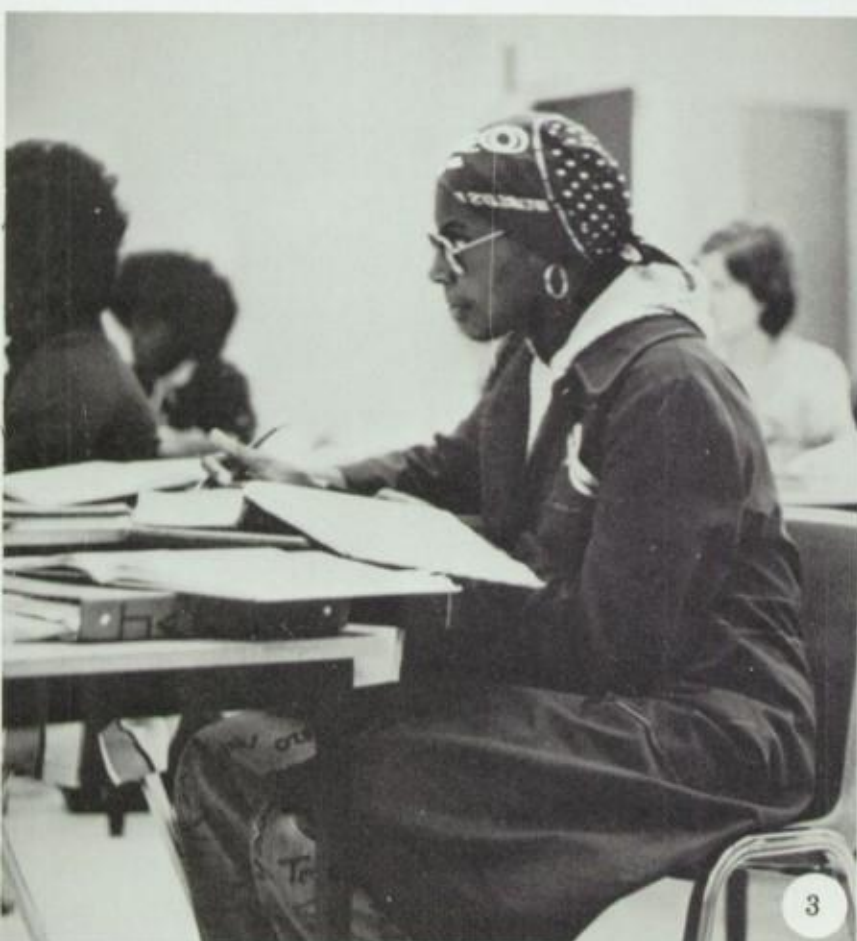

1. "O.K. people, what do we do now?" thinks Teresa Gable. 2. Afraid of being called on, Barbara Mayfield sits very still. 3. Ha! Ha! I bet Mrs. Walker doesn't know what I know. 4. I want a magazine. 5. Teaching the class, Mary Neal demonstrates the way to look bored.

Why Is A Big Building Down There?

"Hey Charlie, Have you seen that big building out past the English classes?" "Well you don't have to say 'Dummy! That's the Vocational School!'" "By the way, what's a Vocational School?" "People take what there?" "Sure, I understand, I think!" "They take Graphic Communications there?" "What do they do, communicate to one another?" "Oh, they gain knowledge of 5 printing processes from Mr. Hagler." "People also take Clerical Occupation? What do they occupy?" "I didn't know that it was there they learn about office and business procedures from Mrs. Blackburn." "They offer nursing too?" "Wow" Mrs. Clarkson is in charge of that?" "Well this is interesting, but I've got to go. Bye."

1. Well, well, Lea Wright is up to it again, paying attention in class. 2. "Who says I can't type love letters?", clicks Faye Webb. 3. What's going on? 4. Hey Sam, what happened to you this time?

Building Brick Construction

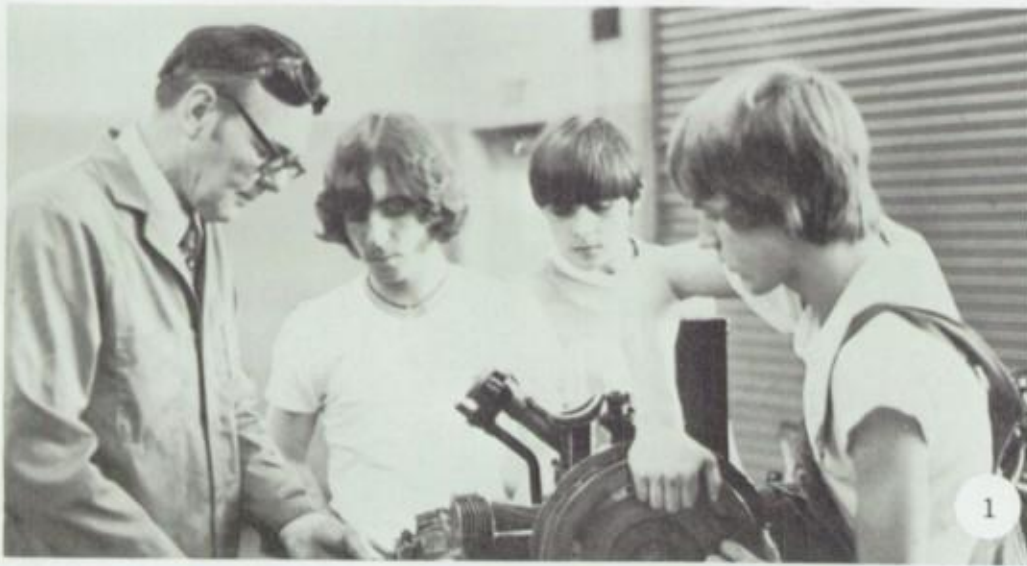

"Building Construction, does that mean I get to build a house? . . . What do you mean, what's that! It's a brick wall . . . CRASH! Mr. Ford, are you sure my brick wall was supposed to fall down after 30 minutes?"

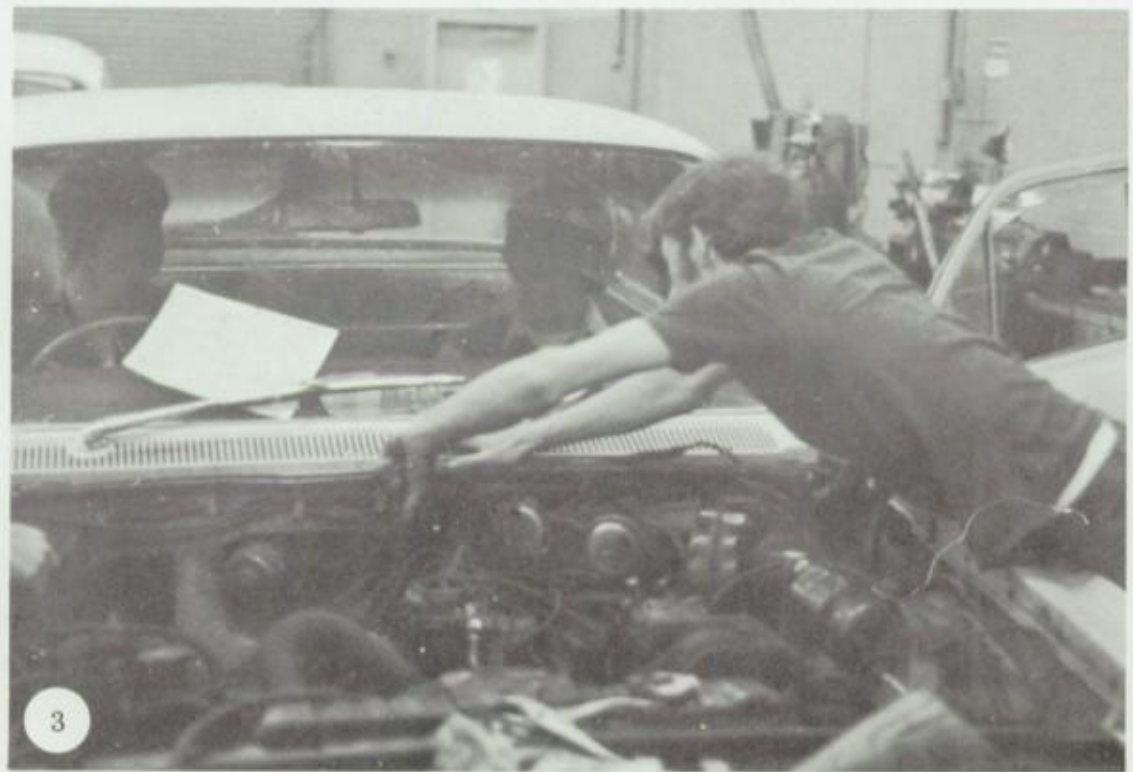

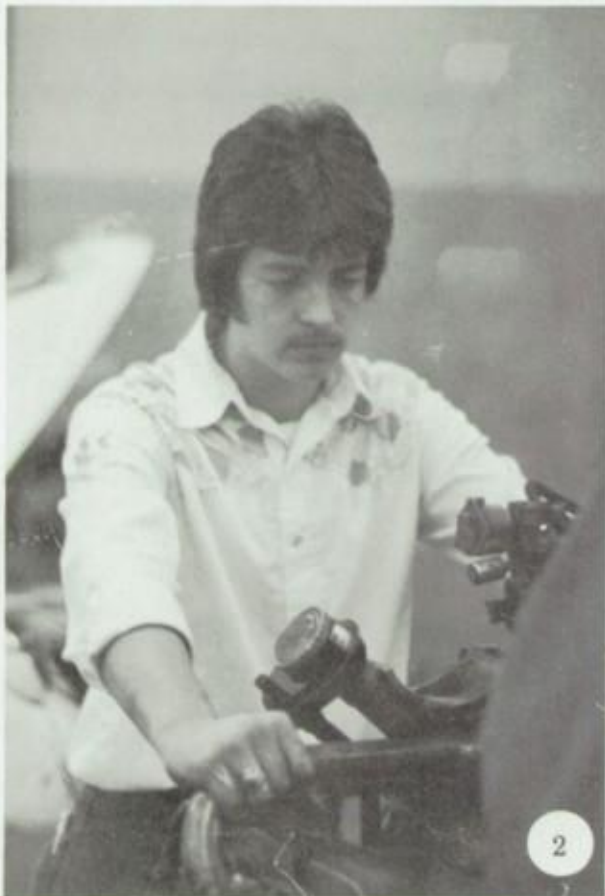

Mr. Paul Ford and Mr. Lester Clark teach Brickmasonry and Building Construction, respectively, at the Vocational School. These courses are open to tenth graders and above.

1. Patti cake, patti cake goes O'Neal Rhinehart.
2. You're crazy if you think this is your brick.
3. Yep, that's Sherman Darnell acting so weird.
4. Hold it! That's not the way to play leap frog.
5. This is the horsey that Building Construction built.

Drafting Electronic Autos

"Hey, Charlie, did you hear about dummy here? He takes drafting. Yea, I wonder what they draft? Probably beer! Don't act so cruel. O.K., it teaches you how to draw plans. Oh well, I'd like to take Auto Mechanics or Electronics. What do you mean I'm too dumb to take them? All you have to do is get dirty. O.K., so it deals with the mechanical functions of a car. You mean math is a basic for Electronics? Wow!"

1. Now fit Piece A to Piece B. 2. A motor? Yea, I guess so, wonders Jeff Dahnke. 3. Ah ha, you got a ticket for parking on the floor. 4. That's right, Wayne Roberts, just connect the dots. 5. What's so funny Randy Lewis?

Machines Textiles Shop

"Hey Charlie, remember the other day, we were talking about the Vocational School? Well I found out that they teach such things as Machine Shop, Power Machines and Textiles down there. I bet you didn't know that!"

"Well so you did. But do you know that Machine Shop deals with the use of different kinds of machines? And Power Machine teaches about larger machines and the uses of them. But do you know what Textiles is?"

"Yep, it does deal with the manufacturing and producing of textiles. You know, Charlie, you're pretty smart."

1. Yes, that's David Boyd doing some work! 2. "Welcome to my nightmare!" says Marion Booker. 3. Why is Archie Hardin hiding behind Curtis Dunifer? 4. After all this practicing, you'll be good with a champagne bottle. 5. Is it a zombie?

FACULTY

ADMINISTRATOR

"Hey, would you freshmen mind getting off your cans and cheering . . . Hey boy, what's the matter? Haven't you got a class this block? . . . Uh, folks we've got a problem . . ."

These are a few of those original expressions that make our day. These quaint phrases come from the lips of our principal, Mr. T.Q. Smith. I guess Mr. Smith is probably the most heard and seen person at our school. We hear him in the morning when he makes the announcements and tells us that we'd better not do it again. We see him at the pep rallies when he shows us his school spirit and makes it evident that we'd better show ours if we'd like to stay. We see him in the halls, especially if we aren't supposed to be there. Mr. Smith is always there when we want to see him. He's more than a person that sits in his office all day and makes announcements. He's real; a real friend, advisor, and disciplinarian.

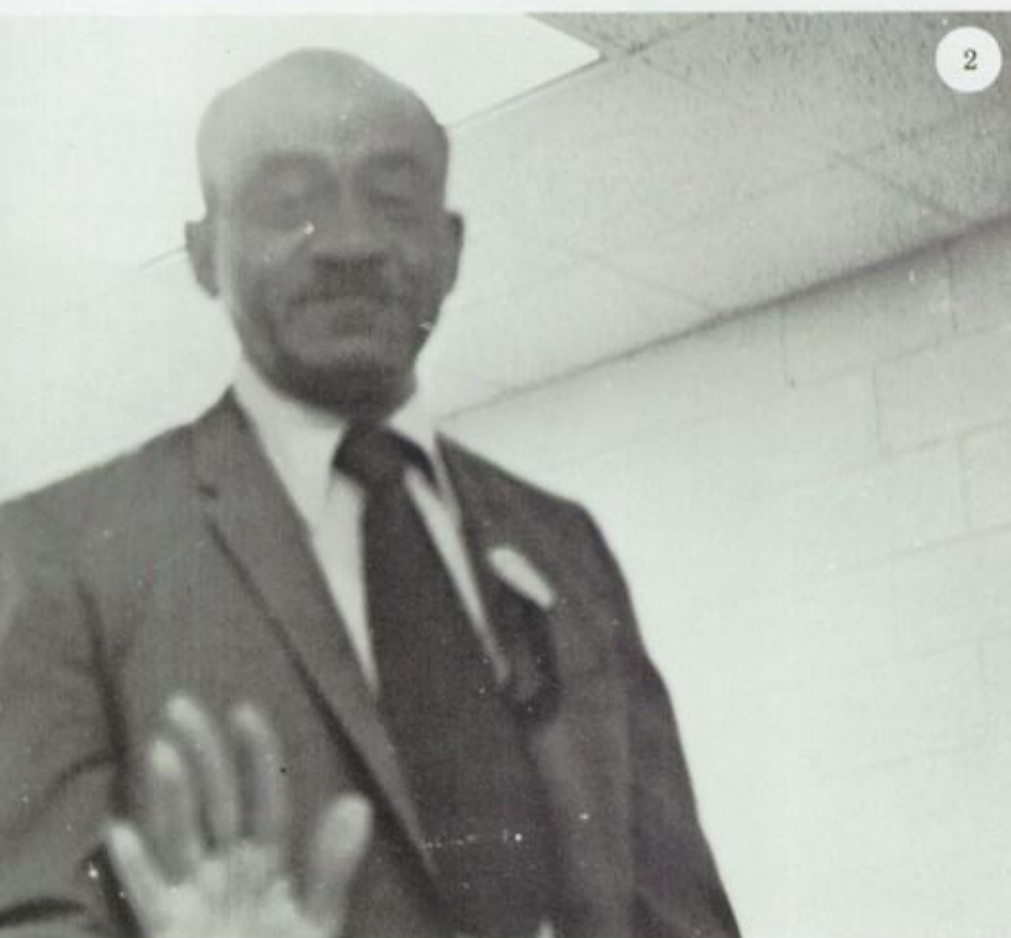

1. "Hm, now let me see, should I throw him out of school for good, or just keep him thirty minutes this afternoon." 2. "Now you freshmen, get off your cans, or I'll put you in the P.E. room and give you a test." 3. Gazing into the stands, Mr. Smith surveys the yelling mob of students as they cheer their team on to victory.

ADMINISTRATION

Who would you look for if you wanted to confess that you were caught chewing gum? Mr. Charles Stoudenmire, that's who. Who rents books to students and keeps up with your attendance? Mr. Milburn Richburg, who else. If you had the sudden urge to drive a bus, go see Mr. Jeff Brown. And if you get into trouble at the Vocational School, you'd get an opportunity to meet Mr. Ted Gasper.

Each of these four men specialize in different fields: Mr. Stoudenmire helps to maintain discipline; Mr. Richburg is in charge of the attendance reports; Mr. Brown is over busing; and Mr. Gasper is the director of the Vocational School.

These men all work together to keep CHS running smoothly and uniformly. With their help, the goal of education is carried out effectively.

1. "What do you mean, you couldn't stop the bus," says Mr. Jeff Brown, after one of his bus drivers reports an accident. 2. While monitoring the halls, Mr. Milburn Richburg motions for a student for his pass. 3. As the new director of the Chester Area Vocational School, Mr. Ted Gasper approves an order from one of his instructors. 4. After his daily session with the students, Mr. Charles Stoudenmire stops to smile at one of the excuses a student gave to him.

RIOT . . . scream, Sherman tanks, tear gas, bloody halls, the entire Army and Marines. Hold it! This didn't happen. It could have but the School Board took such swift action that the riot atmosphere was quickly avoided. The School Board's prompt action was due to its ten members who were elected to a term of two years. Along with Mr. Smith they worked to create a peaceful atmosphere that was conducive to learning. Besides helping to prevent riots, the Board authorizes expulsions, expenditures, teacher hirings and resignations, and financial problems.

Mr. Bratton is the superintendent of the School District. He shows qualities of good leadership and is very active in civic affairs.

Mrs. Debbie Fougrouse

Have you ever asked a secretary for scotch tape? No? Well, you're in for a treat. First, she searches her desk and unlocks secret panels in the drawers. When no tape is found, she searches Mr. Smith and Mr. Stoudenmire's offices. She even rambles through the SAFE! After frantically searching to no avail, she says, "Sorry, no tape. Someone has borrowed it and failed to return it." By this time the tardy bell has rung, and you've forgotten what you wanted the tape for anyway!

This is an example of the thorough work our secretaries do. They are the backbone of the office. They keep everything going smoothly even when the going gets rough, yet they always have a smile for you.

"Oh, hello! Come in and have a seat."

"Thanks. Have you got a minute?"

"Surely. What can I help you with?"

"Well, you see, I can't make up my mind about college."

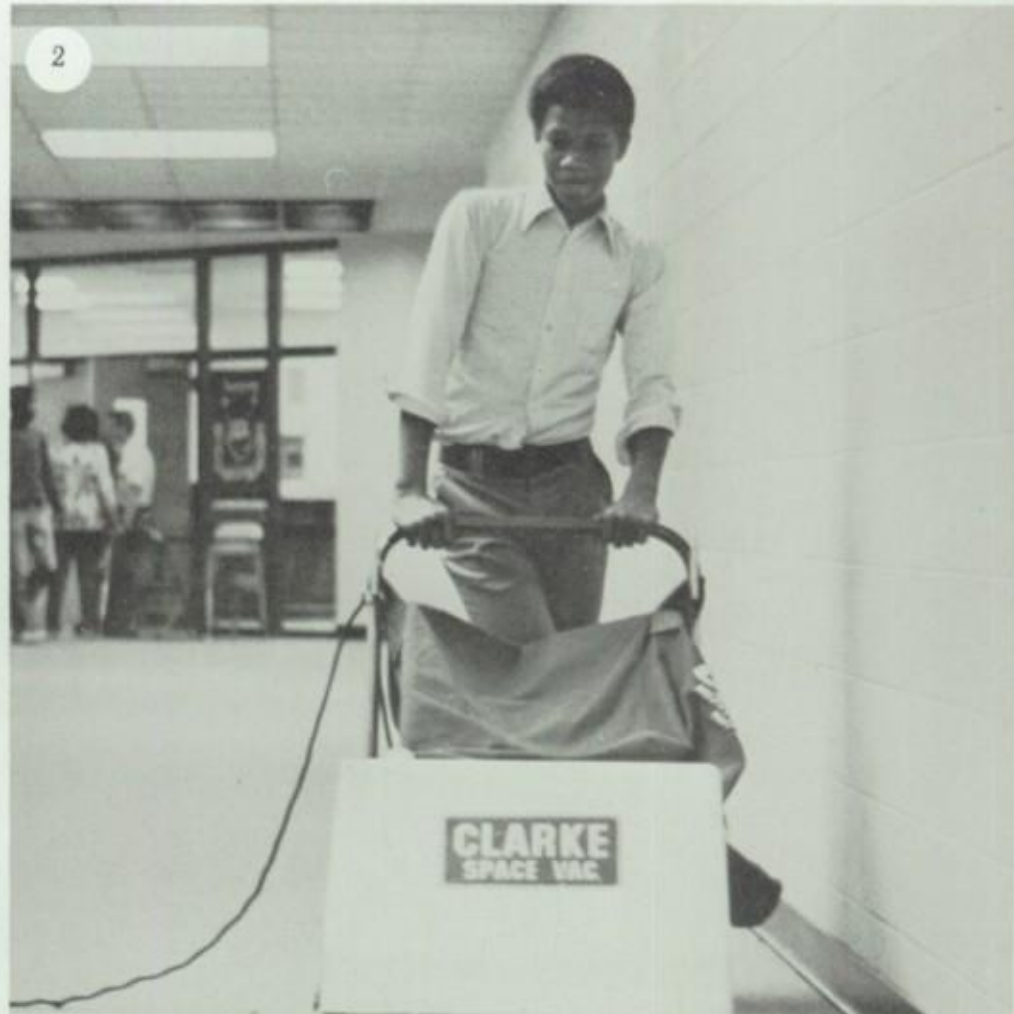

"Okay. Let's talk about it for a while."

This conversation took place in the guidance office one day. Students often went there to talk over their problems with the counselors, who were Mrs. Alice Brown, Mr. Jim Love, Mrs. Mayme King, and Mrs. Thelma Ford. They were always ready to listen to students' problems and to offer good, sound advice.

The Guidance Department also administered tests that CHS students took this year.

This very important part of our school was greatly appreciated this year. The counselors did a wonderful job and did their part to make Chester High School a better place.

GUIDANCE

CHESTER

WRIGHT

Dirty floors, dusty windows, full trashcans, broken heaters . . . These and other problems are what Chester High's custodial staff face each day. The staff consists of five members: Josephine Coleman, Modestelle Mobley, Essie Mae Gregory, Elavette Sanders, and Kamellow Simpson, head. Students help the staff when their assistance is needed. They do just about everything from watering flowers to cutting grass. They do a fine job and Chester High appreciates them.

1. "Help! Get me out of here," says Isaac Mack to Kater Wright. 2. "I'll go vroom, vroom, vroom on my Clarke Vacuum," says Paul Head. 3. "Those darn candy wrappers clog my machine," says Josephine Williams. 4. Enjoying the fresh air is head custodian Kamellow Simpson.

Hungry? The cafeteria is the place for you. It efficiently serves good nutritional meals and helps eliminate those embarrassing mid-morning growls when your stomach cuts cartwheels during class. The staff includes: May Bell Fredrick, Ida May Griffin, Chaney Hall, cashiers Minnie Hall and Addie McKeown, Ella Mae Hodges, Maggie Johnson, Elease Hollmon, Elizabeth Owens, Jo Anne Stallings, Willie Mae Walker, and Margie Hudson, head. They serve approximately 900 meals a day.

1. During lunch, Coach Force helps in the cafeteria. 2. Whew! Another 900 meals, sighs Maggie Johnson. 3. "I'll be dang. We've run out of food again," exclaims Margie Hudson. 4. Counting money is Addie McKeown. 5. Cleaning lunch trays is Jo Ann Stallings.

A Senior's Life

Who's that guy walking down the hall with tumblers in one hand, doughnuts in the other and wearing a cap and gown? None other than a senior!!!

The senior year is both serious and fun. Finding out class rank, sending off applications to colleges and numerous tests have all been a part of senior life. But most of us remember getting out five minutes early for break and lunch, and feeling superior to the underclassmen.

The senior class has worked very hard during their four years at CHS and are proud to be the class with the highest overall academic average of any class ever to graduate from CHS. We have been united both in spirit and in the sense that this is our last year together. And we are going to make 1976 the best year ever!!!

Leaders Stand Out

Led by outstanding officers, the Senior Class reached an all-time high in cooperation this year. Do you know that all the plans were laid out long before they were to take place? Two of the major projects involved the selling of tumblers and doughnuts. The seniors who led the class are Stephanie Guy, president; Linda Chisholm, vice-president; Kim Hope, secretary; and Wanda Everette, treasurer. No matter what the project was, the Senior Class proved to be co-operative.

With a smile on her face, Kim Hope claims her flowers as first runner-up.

Class of '76 Has That Cyclone Spirit

William Harry Feaster

Wanda Ann Fisher

Wow, and how about the spirit the senior class has shown this year! You know usually when it comes to spirit, the junior class is tops on the list. But this year a new trend took shape. The Class of '76, coming off of a fantastic junior year, proved to be one of the most spirited classes to hit Chester High. Yes, spirit sure did move forward with the Class of '76.

Spirit of '76 Reigns

Remember the gas station that had spirit. The name of the station was "76", and all the workers had spirit, the spirit of 76. Even our nation is full of spirit because this is our 200th birthday. And we are full of spirit because we are the class of '76. We had the spirit to get things done? We carried our teams to victory during the pep rallies. Our spirit was evident in our enthusiasm in money-making projects. We are proud to be graduating in the year 1976, a great year in the history of our country. The spirit of 76 is not only in our country, but also in our class because we are the Class of '76.

Senior Advisor Worked Hard

The Senior Class had a lot of great leadership this year, but the advisor was the person who kept everything going. Miss Dianne Hart served as the advisor to the Class of '76. She worked with the students in the many projects of the class. When problems arose, she was always there to offer a solution. The Senior Class was lucky to have such a dedicated teacher to lead them through the year.

Friends Are Unique

Among the seniors who will be leaving CHS is a group of girls known by their friends as the "Big Six". They have been close friends all through high school. The "Big Six" have had a lot of good times together, especially their senior year. They do things like horseback riding, bike riding, playing tennis, racing in shopping carts, going to concerts, visiting Betina, going to Rock Hill, eating pizza, bumping, coming home late from Rock Hill, going to the beach, and of course P-A-R-T-Y!!

Experiences like these make close friends. All of the "Big Six" agree, "We're just like sisters. It's going to be hard to leave such good friends." Like most good friends who will be separated, they plan to stay in touch but it will never be quite the same as it was in high school.

Seniors Move Forward

Intellect, that's what it's got to be. In order for a senior class to move forward, its individuals must have intellect. The senior class of '76 was no exception. After finding out their averages and ranks, no senior felt theirs was too low, because as a whole the averages were good. The class succeeded in producing a great many outstanding individuals, as well as a great many students on the average.

Freshmen Again

"Wow, the end of school is almost here!"

"Gosh, the year is almost gone."

"Just think, in a few months we'll be in college or going to work."

"I sure will hate to leave this place. We've had a lot of good times here."

It was a cold, bleary Saturday morning when I reluctantly dragged myself from my warm, comfortable bed. My bloodshot eyes and my hoarse voice reminded me of the night before. The dark house reflected my mood of despair. I nervously searched for two no. 2 pencils, and then to my misery I discovered that my SAT ticket, the thing I had guarded with my life, was GONE! Frantically racing around the house, I woke up all the members of the family, including the St. Bernard. In my investigation I discovered who had my dryer, my purple toe socks, and my most prized possession, a full color 11 by 14 poster of John Denver. Only after threatening to remove all people crackers from Waldo (the St. Bernard), did I discover the crumpled, slobbery ticket in his mouth. By that time it was 8:30, so I raced to my 1937 Packard. I stomped on the gas and sped to the school. The silence of the cafeteria enveloped me, and I remembered that the SAT was next Saturday. As I banged my head against the wall, two men in white coats dragged me away to the sanitarium. Farewell, Waldo.

Seniors Have It Made

What's great about being a Senior . . .

- you get out of class early
- you get to go to lunch first
- you get to do about anything you want to do
- you get to go to the Prom and PARTY!
- you get to go home early
- you get to have your picture taken with a scenic background
- you get to sit in the Senior section at pep meetings!

What's Ahead?

With the ending of each school year and graduation, come the feelings shared by the individuals of the senior class. As the year progressed, the seniors began to realize that this would be their last year at Chester High. Though they felt sad about this, they also realized that a whole life was ahead of them, and the memories of their high school days would linger on for years to come.

Moving Up Thinking and Waiting

The class of '77 began it's junior year by electing a great set of officers. Leading the class are President Deborah Dobbins, Secretary, Cathy Pettit, and Treasurer Karen Casey. The class of '77 has already begun thinking about their senior year as a matter of fact they even raised money that will probably go to the prom by selling carnations for valentine's day. The class of '77 moving up, thinking ahead, waiting for their turn. Way to go class of '77.

Stumbling Juniors

On Saturday, October 25, 55 Juniors stumbled sleepily into the cafeteria. They were there to take the PSAT/NMSQT. The test began at 8:00. There was an English verbal test and a mathematical test. These tests were given primarily to prepare the students for the SAT. Some students were also allowed to qualify for scholarships offered through the Merit Scholarship Program.

Proud Juniors Move Up

One thing that all juniors look forward to is getting their high school rings. The rings range from mother-of-pearl to black onyx. The juniors ordered them on October 18, 1975, and everyone could hardly wait until they arrived. There's something about having your own high school ring that makes you feel older and more mature. But the Junior Class has a right to be proud in that you have made it this far.

The Perils of History

Homeroom . . .

"Hey man, did you memorize the presidents in order?"

"No man, I forgot to do my U.S. History homework. I hope

"Teach" doesn't give us a test . . ."

2nd block U.S. History . . .

"Oh wow, a test! I knew it. Well, I know ole George was the first dude to be president, but heck, how am I supposed to know all of the others?"

"O.K. class, turn in your papers."

"Oh well, I bet I'll never neglect my U.S. History homework again!"

Leadership

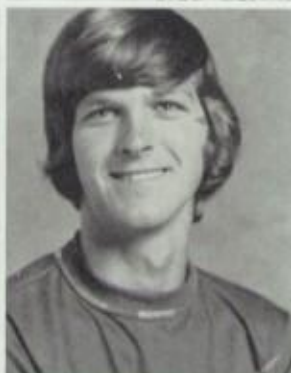

The Junior class had terrific leadership this past year. The officers provided several money-making activities. But the officers could not have done such a good job if they hadn't had good advisors. Serving as advisors this year was Donna Neely, an English teacher, and Mrs. Rosa Knight, a special education teacher. These ladies worked together with the class officers to make the Junior class' year a marvelous one.

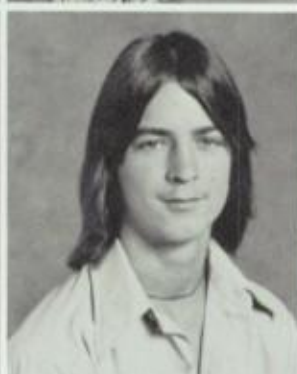

Guess what, Mom, instead of my nose growing, something else happened," says Gary Love.

We've Got That Spirit

Spirit of '77? Well who cares if it doesn't sound so hot. We've got spirit too. How about all those pep rallies when we outyelled the seniors. All the ballgames when most of the folks standing were juniors. Yeah we've got spirit too. Just wait till we're Seniors; then folks will notice the spirit of '77!

Leading the way, Bridget Lann and Cherry Bailes ride in the parade.

Hey Charlie!

Hey, Charlie. Guess what? We finally made it to the top half of the student body. One more year and we're out for good. We have learned some pretty interesting things this year. We've made a lot of friends, too. Some will be leaving us, but then we'll be at the top.

Women Lead Class of '78

The Sophomore year started out with a bunch of students eager and ready to make a great year for their class, and they did a great job. The officers who helped make it a great year are Yvette Spann, president; Velma Grant, vice-president; Janice Cox, secretary; and Sandra Wilmore treasurer.

Party! Party! Party!

Ah! What a relief! We finally got to be sophomores. We're no longer the "punks" of the school. Eat your heart out, Class of '79.

Don't forget that we are the ones who are getting their licenses. So now we have all the girls, and the girls have all the boys. So study hard seniors, take the SAT juniors, find your way around freshmen, and PARTY sophomores.

World History Woes

Oh no, another pop test! I forgot to do my homework last night. This World History gets pretty tough at times. I can't get my own life straight much less all those crazy dates we have to remember. Who cares whether the Moors fought at Tours. Oh, well, maybe someday I'll get smart and won't have to study all this history anymore.

'79 Is Fine!

This year's freshmen officers seem to be very enthusiastic about participating not only in their class activities but in the entire school activities. The officers are: Beth McElwee — President, Herman Boyd — vice-president, Renee Millwood — secretary, and Josie Stephenson — treasurer. The freshman class should be proud of their officers because they have a great responsibility helping to govern the school.

Freshmen Have Pep

At the first of the year freshman weren't too sure what to do at the pep meetings. Mr. Smith would holler at them, and would make them embarrassed. But now the freshman really have a lot school spirit. They are a big class, and they make a lot of racket at the pep meetings.

Cone fabrics have stood for freedom from the start...since 1895, when America began living in them. The first to come to light was deeptone denim, and Cone became the leading manufacturer of this famous fabric. Next, came corduroy, an equal winner. But Cone didn't stop there. In fact, denim and corduroy are just two of the many fabrics that have won acclaim for Cone Mills in its 81-year history.

Today, with 23 modern plants, Cone creates a whole line of quality fabrics for casualwear, sportswear, sleepwear, uniforms and career apparel, fabrics for home-sewing—even polyurethane foam and dyestuffs are now part of the Cone family of products.

The employees of Cone Mills—approximately 14,000 in all—are proud of their part in creating basic fabrics that are the backbone of American casual fashion.

CHESTER - A TOWN HISTORICAL BEAUTY

"Hey, you're new around here, aren't you?"

Yeah. I haven't been in town but a couple of weeks."

"Well, how do you like Chester so far?"

"I really like it a lot. Especially all of the historical places that you've got around here. You see, I'm sort of a history nut, you might say."

"I see. We've got a lot of historical things around town. There's our beautiful courthouse, and of course the monument on the hill. Have you seen the City Hall yet?"

"Yes. They're planning on restoring it, aren't they?"

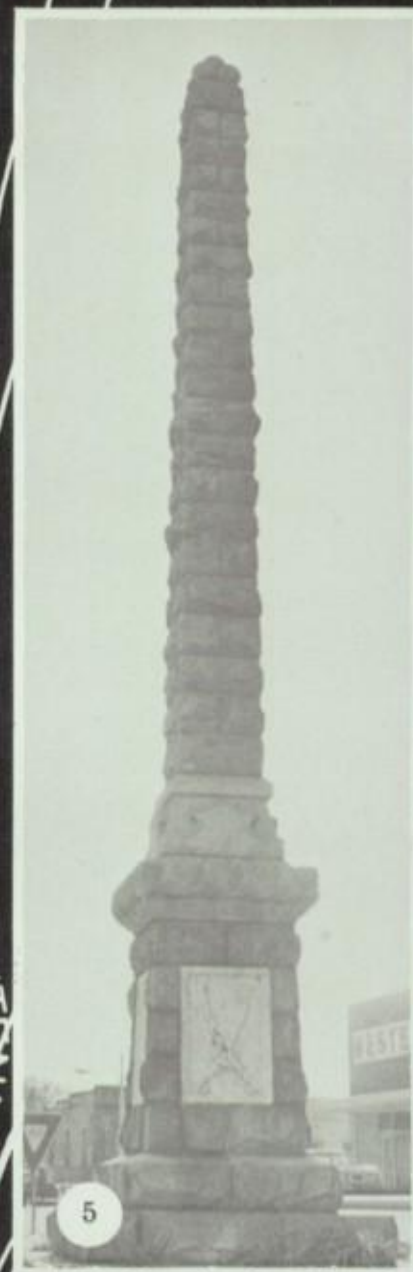

"Yeah. Oh, I bet you saw the Aaron Burr rock, too, didn't you?"

"You bet. I really would like to hear the whole story behind it though."

"Well, come on then. I'll show you around town some more. There are plenty of interesting places all over the county. I'll show them to you and try to tell you a little about them."

1. Chester County Courthouse 2. City Hall 3. Lockkeepers House at Landsford Canal 4. Aaron Burr Rock 5. The Confederate War Memorial Monument

DATING IN CHESTER- JUST LOOK AROUND

"Hey man, what are you going to be doing tonight?"

"I'm not sure yet. I'll probably end up at the Pizza Hut, the show, or somewhere like that. What about you?"

"I can't decide. Some of my friends go to the Elks' Club, but I've never been before."

"Yeah. Some of them even go out of town to places like the Barn in Rock Hill or the LBJ in Great Falls."

"Some people say that there's not anything to do around here, but if you just look around, there are plenty of places to go on a date."

"Sure there are. Well, I'd better go. Maybe I'll see you around to-night."

"Okay, take it easy now. Bye."

1. Located off of York Road, the Elk's Club is the scene of many dances and parties. 2. Many couples enjoy "courtin'" under the trees at the State Park. 3. The Pizza Hut is a lively place to go after a ball game and on weekends. 4. The parking lot at CHS was a very popular dating spot — until the cops started going there too! 5. A lot of CHS students hurry on down to Hardee's after school or for a quick bite to eat at night. 6. This is still the most popular dating place of all!!!!

GROUNDING AGAIN !!

"Gosh, we're grounded again. It seems like everytime we turn around we're getting our privileges taken away."

"Yeah, but Mr. Smith has good reasons for taking them away."

"I guess you're right. Remember the time when somebody kept throwing smoke bombs all over the place?"

"Right, and what about the mess in the cafeteria. We almost lost part of our lunch breaks because a lot of people wouldn't clean up their places."

"Yeah, that was pretty bad, but not anywhere near as bad as the fires."

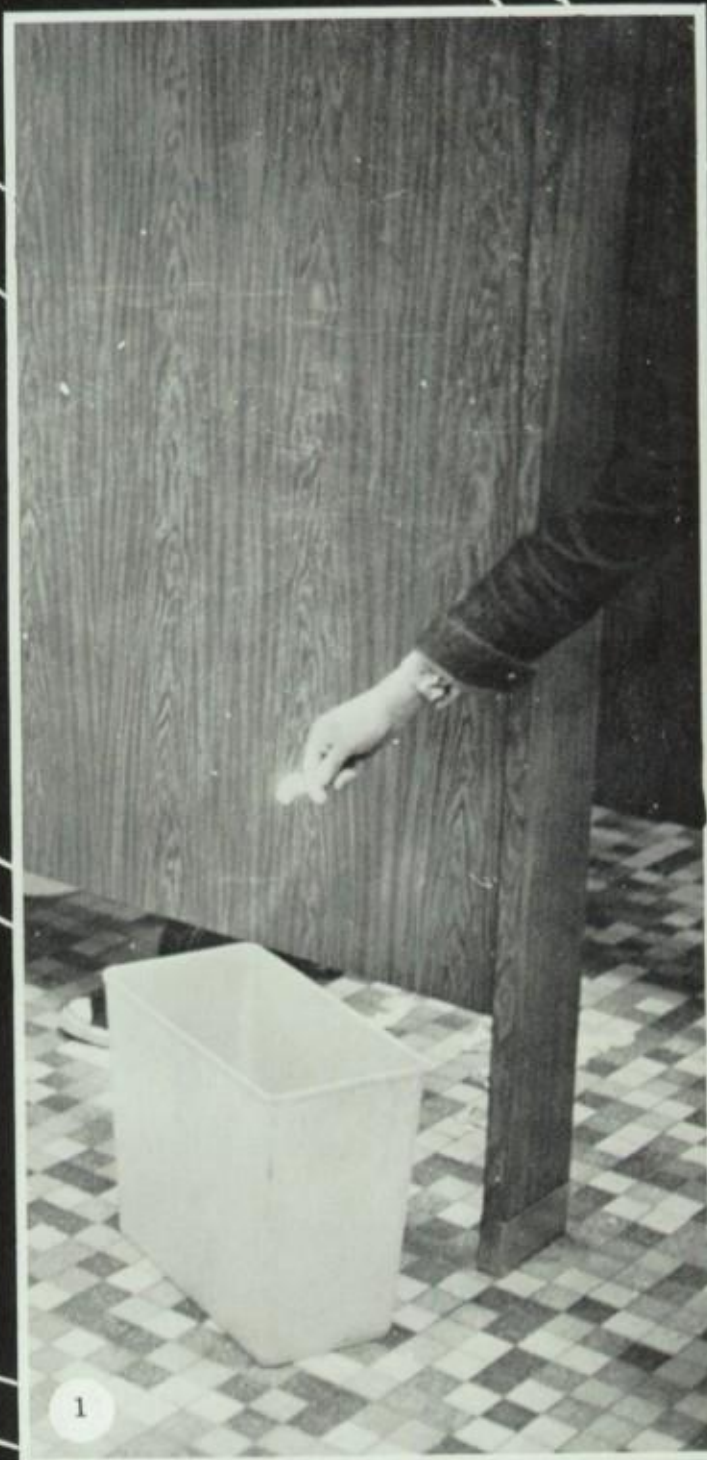

"Oh wow! That was terrible. For a while there, somebody set fires in the bathrooms all of the time."

"It's a wonder that school didn't burn down."

"I'm glad that Mr. Smith was around to get everything under control."

Yeah, it was rough for a while. No break, time cut off of lunch, no senior privileges."

"But everything was finally settled. I think that next year, we had better calm down if we want any freedom at all!"

1. Someone should tell this student that the bathroom is no place to roast marshmallows. 2. "Quick, call the bomb squad my privileges are going up in smoke." 3. "Fight" a word that drew crowds several times this year. 4. "To pull or not to pull?" A question several students dared to ask this year.

WHAT'S UP? NEW HORIZONS AT CHS!

"Hold up a minute!"

"Okay. What's up?"

"The ceiling! What else?"

"Stop trying to be so funny. Here, how about signing my yearbook?"

"All right. This year sure did pass by quickly."

"Yeah, we had a lot of great times didn't we?"

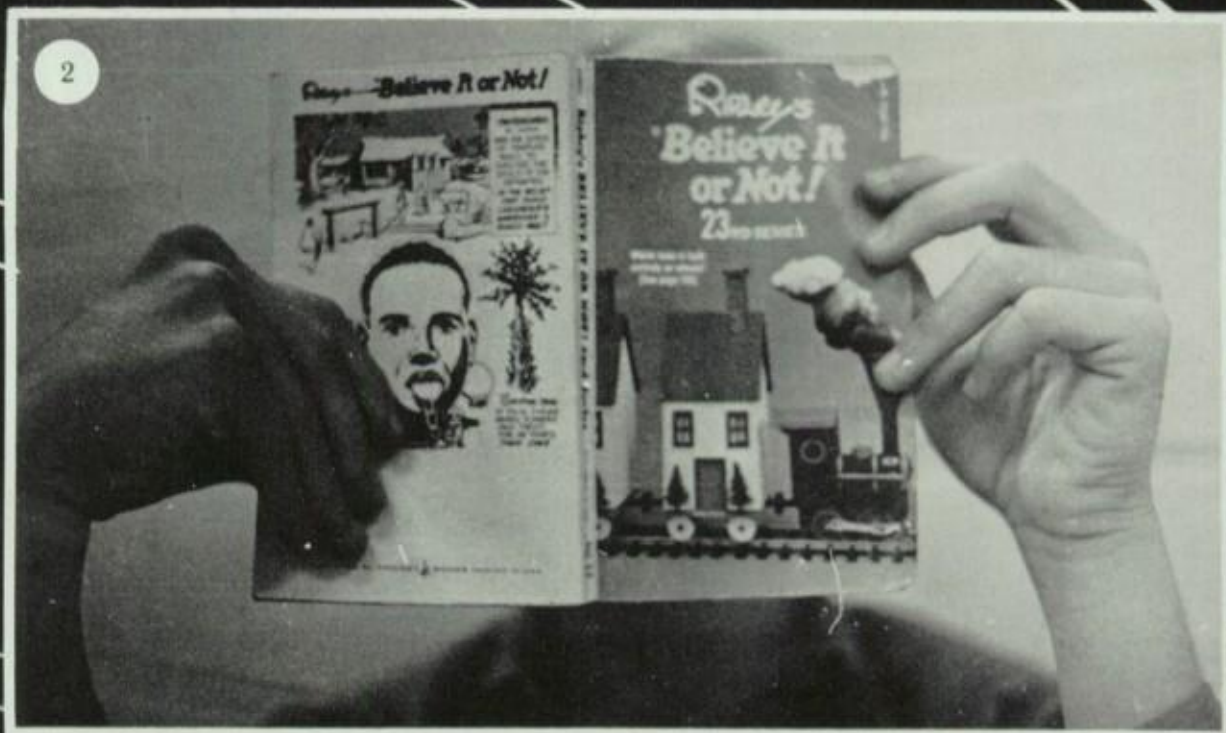

"We really did. Chester High has really made a lot of progress this year."

"That's the truth. Our spirit was fantastic this year. Everybody was really backing the school."

"Sure, and what about the new sports we added and all of the new teachers that came?"

"Yeah, and a lot of new courses were added too. And there are supposed to be more added next year."

"You know, we're really lucky to be able to go to such a great school. everywhere we look. CHS is creating new horizons for our lives!"

1. Our new cheerleaders added pep to all of the ballgames as they led our team to victory.
2. The new courses were varied, but some students went to extremes.
3. CHS students created new spirit this year when they gave all of their support to the Cyclones.
4. Looking out over the student area, a beautiful sunset is seen on the horizon. Like the dreams that are viewed in the distance, Chester High is climbing higher into the lives of her students.

Most people think that a yearbook is a spontaneous thing — at the end of every year it suddenly appears. That idea is totally wrong. A yearbook takes at least a year to produce. Long hours of planning and hard work go into producing the best yearbook possible.

The book is divided into several sections. Different persons were put in charge of each section of the book. The people gave much of their time, often passing up other more enjoyable activities, to work on the book. Hours after school stretched way into the night, but Tammy White, Glenda Gladden, Ann Marion, Kay Ivie, Judy Boulware, Ann Jackson, Karen Peterson, and Billy Matthews were here when needed. Editors, thanks very much for your exceptional work.

Pictures just don't produce themselves either. This year we had four photographers to help us. They were willing to put up with tempermental editors, late hours, and a lonely darkroom. Innumerable thanks go to Patrick Lourigan, Eddie Wilburn, Chris Neal, and Robbie Black,

The cover of this book and the artwork throughout are the work of staff artist Jamie Aiken. In spite of confusing directions, she did a beautiful job which really enchanced the book.

This book would not have been possible without the concerned aid of our yearbook representative, Claude Saleeby. Claude was always willing to give good advice and point out our mistakes. He didn't mind putting up with the craziest staff in the world, but that may have been because hs is a professional hit man. Nevertheless, Claude was a valuable part in putting this book together.

And of course, Mr. Smith was always ready to listen to any problems that we had with the Cestrian. From candy sales to the annual-signing party, he was ready to give us all of the help that he could. He often wondered where our dedication came from, because we all practically lived at school. He was easy to get along with because he cared about us, and that helped a lot.

Our big thanks go to Ms. Elizabeth Underwood, the Cestrian adviser. She deserves more credit than any other person who worked on the book. Rain or shine, early or late, she was always at the school working hard on the Cestrian. She put up with our crazy antics and corny jokes day after day. From pillow fights to counting marks against the editor, she was always there helping, supervising, and caring. No matter what the task was she did it. There is no way that this book would be as it is without her dedicated and diligent work. Thanks again for everything.

Once again I would like to thank everyone who had a hand in making this Cestrian possible. To the editors, photographers,, typists, copywriters, and everyone else — thanks for making the 1976 CESTRIAN a big success.
